Quality Runs Deep In York Show

BY PAT PURCELL

YORK — Quality was definitely up at the York County Holstein Show, according to Judge Jerry Myers on Thursday, although the number of entries might have been down.

"I saw a definite improvement in the overall quality of the animals here today although we may not have had a large number of entries. We had some excellent animals," said Myers.

For everything there is a time and for several of the top Holstein breeders in York County the time is now. Several of the families who did well last came out with the top honors in this year's Holstein show.

The the Rodman Thompson family, owners of Coredale Holsteins, would not settle for reserve champion this year. They took home the grand champion for the breed with Coredale Creek Nan. Reserve champion went to Beshore Farms, as exhibited by C. E. Hubbard, with Kowraygan Creek Linnan Jean. Premier breeder and premier exhibitor was awarded to Kingway Holsteins. Kingway Holsteins, owned by Paul and Kathy King of Delta, also captured the number one position for the best three females.

The Coredale Holsteins' 3 year old was sired by Creek Bluff Elevation Lester. The dam of this winner is Justa Beauty Needle Nettie. According to Mrs. Rodman Thompson, Coredale Creek Nan took number one in the 3-year-old state competition held in Harrisburg in March. In 27 years of dairying this was the first state champion for the Thompsons.

"This 3 year old stuck in my mind throughout the show. I knew it was the animal I wanted to go with, " said Myers.

Myers selected the Coredale Holstein on its excellent mammary

Canadian Cow Wins Lancaster Show

BY J. EVAN REIFF

QUARRYVILLE — A northern import walked away with the top female honors at the Lancaster County Open Holstein Show Thursday. Canadian-born Richine Astro Neeta, a three-year-old owned by Silvermine Holstein, captured both senior and grand champion titles only three days after arriving in the states.

Judge Denny Wolfe of Pen-Col Farms, Millville, gave the reserve champion female honors to Welk Crest Rex Sugar owned by Paul Welk. The home-bred junior two-year-old, who is projected at 17,000, only had to travel from Peach Bottom. Sugar's dame is rated Very Good 85 and she's sired by Maplebound Starlite Rex.

The champion was sired by young bull in the Canadian Young Sires program, Reidmanor Astronmer. She produced her second calf in May. According to Sandi Thomas of Silvermine, Neeta was discovered by a friend who was helping a Canadian dairy switch from a grade to registered herd. Thomas traveled to Canada and was impressed with the cows potential.

"Neeta wasn't feeling well earlier in the week because of the 12 hour drive," Thomas stated. "We gave her a little extra care and she really bounced back quickly."

Silvermine Holstein consists of 20 head housed at Fulton Way Farm, Willow Street, which is owned by Thomas's father, J. Mowery Frey, Jr.

Robert Barley took the junior heifer championship on his senior

Governor Signs Proclamation

Governor Robert P. Casey signed a proclamation declaring August 16-22, 1987, as Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction Week at ceremonies held in Harrisburg Wednesday.

The Pennsylvania dairy industry has joined with the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program to honor the most attractive dairy farms in the state. A national semi-finalist in the federal "Take Pride in America Campaign", the Dairy of Distinction program's goal is to encourage farms that add to the countryside's natural beauty.

Each year the program recognizes no more than 10 dairies from each of the ten designated districts in the state. To receive the honor a farm must apply and satisfy the scrutiny of a panel of judges making a roadside inspection. Each winner will be identified by a roadsign at the entrance stating that the property is a "Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction." In its first year in the state 339 farms have applied for the award.

York Swine Producer Wins National Award

A York County Swine Producer garnered the top award at the 1987 National Duroc Swine Congress at Lafayette, Indiana on July 8-10. Dave Holloway, R.D. 2, Glen Rock, showed a 256 lb. barrow and won the National Duroc Jackpot Barrow Competition. There were 123 exhibitors from 23 different states entered in the competition.

Dave's barrow was sired by HP-12-2. It had 6.40 inch loin eye, .9 inch backfat and a 31.7 inch length of carcass. It had a 57.3% lean value and a live score of 30 which was the highest score possible. This win entitled the Holloways to win $1,000 plus for their barrow.

Dave entered a gilt which was a daughter of DCH Reo which took first place in Class I division and sold for over $500. He had two boars which were also sired by DCH Reo and placed 6th and 9th in their classes. They sold for $4,000 and $2,700 respectively.

This win was very rewarding for the Holloways. Dave was the only breeder from Pennsylvania entered in the Congress. This outstanding showing brings recognition to Pennsylvania and to York County.

ACRES SOYBEAN UPDATE Soybeans closed slightly lower but well off session lows on spillover strength from the wheat pit and the new 6 10 day forecast calling for hot and dry conditions to continue. The July option expired today with a loss of 10 cents at $5 36, while the November clo sed down2-1/2 at $5 1950

ACRES WHEAT UPDATE: Wheat futures settled higher on hopes of export bonus business The July option expired at noon, with a gain of 3-1/4 cents at $2 52-1/4 and the September closed up 6 cents at $2 62-3/4

ACRES CATTLE UPDATE. Live cattle and feeder cattle futures settled mixed with the front options lower and the back options recording gains The front months were under pressure by lower cash fundamentals and the deferreds were lifted by active short covering before Friday's quarter ly cattle on feed report Ideas that October was oversold in anticipation of a bearish cattle on feed report prompted the short-covering This report is expected to show larger than year ign placements and active marketings

ACRES HOG UPDATE The pork complex closed higher today coming off session lows on a late short covering rally prompted by light movement a ,ulash prices Expectations for higher cash hog prices at the terminal and interior hog markets tomorrow prompted buying in both pits

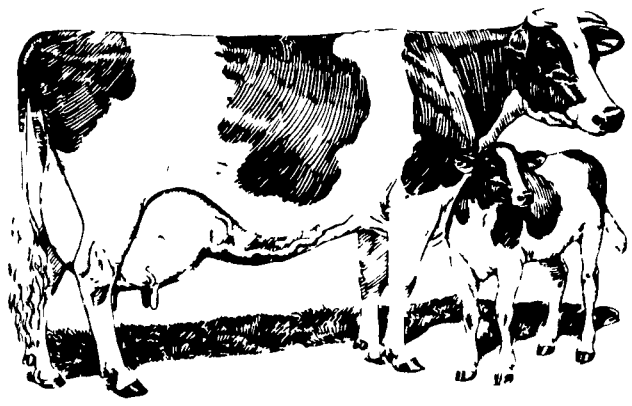
IMPROVE HERD HEALTH



28¢ Per Day - provides her with a daily diet specifically formulated for pre-freshening cows.

Pennfield Dry Cow Program

The 60 day period before freshening is a most important time in the life cycle of the cow. During the period she will "store-up" vitamin, mineral, and energy reserves which she will draw on during her following peak of lactation. Over 50% of her calf weight will devleop during this period, and being a good mother, she will supply nutrients to her calf before she will rebuild her own body reserves.

Good dairymen have seen that proper feeding management during this critical-period, means easier calving, better appetite during early lactation, and cows breed back better because they have nutritional reserves to draw on during peak lactation.

Balanced Nutrition Is The Key

A properly formulated dry cow program allows the dairyman to "control" the nutrient intake of the cow. Calcium and phosphorus levels must be properly maintained and forages should be checked for protein, energy, calcium and phosphorus.

Pennfield Offers You

• Forage Testing--

Pennfield customers receive "no charge" forage testing at our laboratory located in Lancaster, Pa. Testing normally takes 5 working days.

• Dry Cow Program --

A printed feeding program shows correct quantities of forages to be fed along with 2 lbs. of Pennfield "Dry Cow Conditioner with Selenium."

• Trained Dairy Specialists --

Pennfield has 14 Dairy Specialists trained to help the dairymen develop sound feeding programs.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC

JULY 27-AUG. 2, 1987

Sun and rain on and off again.

Average length of days for the week 14 hours, 32 minutes Korean War ended July 27, 1953 . Jackie Onassis born July 28, 1929 14th Amendment, granting citizenship to blacks, adopted July 28, 1868 "Reign of Terror" leader, Robespierre, beheaded in Paris July 28, 1794 Herman Melville born Aug 1, 1819 First quarter of the moon Aug 2 (Sun) He that sows thorns should not go barefoot

Ask the Old Farmer: When I was young, my father used to tell me that I didn't amount to a tinker's dam I know this wasn't a compliment! But what is a tinker's dam? FP, Camden, Maine

Anything, such as a lump of dirt, to prevent melted solder from running off the desired spot

Home Hints: Corn is at its sweetest if picked early in the morning

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

New England: Week begins sunny and warm, midweek rain, heavy west, end of week thunderstorms and cool temperatures

Greater New York-New Jersey: Beginning through midweek sunny, very warm, and some showers, end of week rainy and very warm

Middle Atlantic Coastal: Beginning through midweek sunny and hot with scattered showers, end of week showers continue, heavy north

ATTENTION TOBACCO FARMERS!!
PARADISE TOBACCO SALES

WATCH FOR APHIDS CONTINUOUSLY!

When spraying for aphids or suckers - DO NOT spray in hottest part of day. Especially for suckers - do not spray early in the morning when there is a heavy dew. Mid morning is best time for either spray application.

If possible, do not spray for suckers & aphids at the same time after topping. It will cause stress on the tobacco plant and make it easier for etch virus to get started.

Do not top your 609 tobacco too low! There was a good demand for short dark tip tobacco several times last year.

The CCC has finally cleared the final 55 million lbs. of 1983 Burley tobacco (process weight) out of its system in July. That makes 200+ million lbs. total. This should no longer be a terrible over hang to our LANCASTER COUNTY tobacco market.

GOOD LUCK ON A GOOD QUALITY CROP - IT WILL BE VERY IMPORTANT FOR US THIS YEAR!

OPINION

Dispel Fears With Facts

A moderately-glossy folder of information from the Animal Health Institute came this week. We had to admit, that to us, Animal Health Institute was an unfamilar name with a new logo. But the cover picture of a dairy cow on a yellow-gridded background soon had us reading the latest information on bovine somatotropin (BST). It seems all the manufacturers, or potential manufacturers, of this new biotechnology product have banded together in an unprecendented bit of cooperation among primary competitors in a race to develop commercial applications for this new technology. The large pharmaceutical companies like American Cyanamid, Elanco Products, Monsanto and UpJohn have all joined together under the new Animal Health Institute to provide information for the public and for dairymen.

These companies make equal contribution to the biotechnology policy task force that is coordinated by the Animal Health Institute. It draws upon the personnel and resources of the companies but does not get involved in individual products or research.

The new institute has been formed because, as with anything this new and revolutionary, BST has raised many concerns. From the welfare of the cow to the continued quality of the milk. And dairymen are concerned about the burden of overproduction and the need for increased management skills. So a lot of questions need to be answered. And the Animal Health Institute believes it can answer these questions with facts.

For example, to determine how Americans view biotechnology in general and a particular product for dairy cows, the Animal Health Institute's BST Public Information Working Group commisssioned an opinioned survey. The dairy product involved in the survey is bovine somatotropin. This hormone produced through biotechnology aims to improve the efficiency of milk production by dairy cows. The opinion survey sought peoples' initial impressions on biotechnology and BST. A total of 1,315 adults nationwide were surveyed by telephone in February of 1987. Of those surveyed, 77 percent said that science has brought more advances than problems. Sixty-two percent said that biotechnology will make our lives better. Eighty-two percent think biotechnology will increase the world's food supply. And 61 percent favor government regulation of biotechnology.

This would seem to indicate the public views the new science favorably. However, BST is very little known. Only three percent of those surveyed had heard a great deal about it. Nine percent had heard some. Twenty-two percent knew very little. And 66 percent knew nothing about BST. Of those who had heard about it, opinion was evenly divided. One third favored it. One third opposed it. And one third didn't know.

At least so far consumers do not have a solidified opinion of BST. Of considerable interest to the dairy industry is the fact that people who drink the most milk were the most supportive of BST in every question than people who drink little or no milk.

Few people are consistantly hostile to BST. Most consumers lean toward arguments in favor of BST when told the facts.

Certainly we know a lot more about BST now than we did when the first headlines hit the newspapers a few years ago. But we still have alot to learn. And as the facts become known through research, a lot of fears will be dispelled if the public is made aware of the facts. At least that is the belief of the Animal Health Institute. And the moderately glossy folder of information is the first attempt to dispel fears with facts.

NOW IS THE TIME

To Make Summer Alfalfa Seeding

Early to mid August are good times to seed alfalfa, particularly in this part of the state. When seeded during the period of good soil moisture, the plants have time to become established before freezing weather arrives. With dry conditions in some areas, it would be wise to delay seeding until moisture arrives.

Alfalfa is still one of our major forage crops and deserves the very best of planning and management. Band seeding is the best method to make this seeding.

Weed control is a "must" with a straight seeding without a nurse crop. Many stands are injured by poor weed control during the first year. Refer to the 1987-88 Agronomy Guide for assistance on weed control practices. Be aware that alfalfa should not be planted in ground that has been treated for corn weed control during the past year, especially fields sprayed with atrazine. Alfalfa is an excellent forage crop; however, it does require attention and good management.

To Be Aware of Lightning Danger

Hot summer temperatures often bring severe thunder and lightning storms; and we've had some in certain areas this summer, and no doubt there will be more to come. We urge parents to warn their youngsters of the danger of seeking shelter under a tree or swimming in a pond or creek before and during a storm. Safety in a truck, car or building should be encouraged as the storm approaches, as well as during the storm. Stay away from electric fences and farm equipment that is out in the open.

Buildings with lightning rods should be checked to be sure the rods are grounded in moist soil and free of debris that would prevent the cable from taking the charge into the ground.

To Fertilize Strawberry Plants

Most strawberry growers have realized good returns from their plants in recent years. The prices are favorable and the market is there. In order to realize the maximum yield next spring, we suggest the plants be well fertilized this summer. An application of 20 to 30 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre over the plants during July or August should give strength to new runners and increase fruit yield. This application should be made when the plants are dry to avoid burning the leaves. In the home strawberry patch use about one-fourth pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 square feet of bed space. Good care of the strawberry plants this summer will bring about better yields next June.

To Check Pets For Fleas

Warm weather favors the development of fleas and you will find them jumping right now. First of all treat the dogs and cats with commercial flea powders. Flea collars appear to do a good job against fleas but check the pet frequently because the skin of some animals becomes irritated by the material in the collar. For indoors, treat infested areas with ant and roach aerosols. Do not overlook the bedding of pets or their sleeping quarters. Sevin does an effective job in this area.

Because fleas often infest lawns in the summer, treat the grass with sprays or dusts containing either Sevin or Diazinon. Apply these sprays according to the directions on the container.

The Cooperative Extension Service is an affirmative action, equal opportunity education institution.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WAITING FOR GOD'S SONS

July 26, 1987

Background Scripture: Romans 8: 1-27.
Devotional Reading: Romans 8:18-25.

Samuel Beckett's play, "Waiting For Godot," seems to be a drama about two men waiting for a third person, Godot, who never comes. Actually, it is a play about waiting for God and Beckett is saying that waiting for God is just as futile. The play was very popular back in the 1960's during that time when many were certain that "God is dead!"

WAITING FOR GOD

Although we no longer hear that term "God is dead!" there are still many people who lose their faith because it seems to them that God is not going to come and do any of the things he has promised. They looked for peace at last and war continues. They looked for brotherhood and find that prejudice is still a strong force in the world. They looked for righteousness, but find that corruption still reaches out powerful tentacles. So, they grow tired and dispair of waiting any longer.

Maybe, however, we are waiting in vain because we are waiting for the wrong person. Perhaps it is not God who has failed to show up, but someone else. Who? In Romans, Paul says, "For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God." This, I believe is not a casual statement on Paul's part, for he makes several pointed references to the "sons of God." For example: "For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God" and shortly afterward he says, "but you have received the spirit of sonship." And, using slightly different terminology: "...it is the Spirit himself bearing witness with out spirit that we are children of God."

SONS OF GOD

Who are these "sons" of "children" of God? Are these the very same people who have cried in contrition, "Who will deliver me from this body of death?" Yes, these are the very same people. These are the people who realize that there are two different ways to respond to God's mercy. One way is to use it as an escape from the consequences of our sins and failure. Those who choose this way are not really concerned with the cost of their sin, so long as someone else pays it for them. They are also likely to spend their lives sinning and seeking forgiveness over and over again.

The other way of responding to God's forgiveness, however, is to use that grace as the power to change our lives. Because God's mercy overcomes our guilt, out of gratitude we devote ourselves to doing the very best we can. We become "sons" of God, not because we never fail, but because we have committed ourselves to God's service with a dedication that sin and failure cannot shake. By the power of God's mercy, we are empowered to live better lives: "If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will give life to your mortal bodies also through his Spirit which dwells in you."

Isn't this, then what the world is really waiting for — not God, who is already here, but the "sons" and "children" of God, who, by the power of his grace, can be the channels through which God's ancient promises are kept and his eternal plan fulfilled?

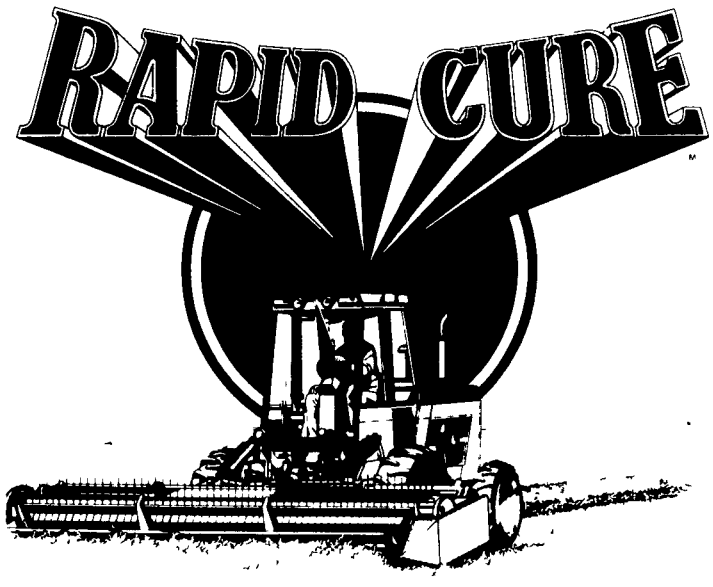
WAS YOUR 1st & 2nd CUTTING OF HAY

RAIN DAMAGED?

ABC GROFF, INC. WANTS TO HELP REDUCE YOUR CHANCES OF BEING CAUGHT AGAIN...



Chemical Hay Conditioner

When sprayed on alfalfa hay during cutting, the RAPID CURE mixture penetrates the waxy cutin layer on the stems, increasing the rate of water evaporation from the hay.

INTRODUCTORY OFFER $5.00 Per Acre

RAPID CURE:

1. Reduces chance of rain damage
2. Improves the quality of hay
3. Gets hay off faster and allows more days for new hay crop to grow.

RAPID CURE Doesn't Cost...It Pays!!!

Both university and farm tests have proven RAPID CURE Chemical Hay Conditioner pays for itself. RAPID CURE will cost about $5.50 per acre. Applied as directed, RAPID CURE will increase hay yield by 120 to 130 lbs. per acre. This increased yield pays the cost of RAPID CURE.

ABC GROFF, INC. has a quality line of RAPID CURE applicators in stock to fit your needs.

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT ABOUT.....?

Have you ever thought about how you could make an extra 50 cents per bushel on your corn crop? If you have, you've probably thought about how much it costs you to haul and store your crop at the elevator.

CHARGES...CHARGES...CHARGES... first you have to wait in long lines, while you need to be in the field. There's the moisture dockage, which never seems to be fair. Last but not least, the storage fees, which can take the profit right out of your crop.

It's time you started to profit from your own grain management & storage system. Aerodry - Grain Management Specialists can show you how.

AeroDry uses natural fan forced air, controlled by computer, to dry your corn. There's no high heat, only mother nature's natural way to remove moisture. The computer monitors and controls air flow, so you don't have to baby-sit day or night.

AeroDry eliminates high heat temperatures to dry your grain. Using natural air, your grain will have less shrink and higher test weights. You won't "cook" the quality out of your crop.

FUEL INJECTION & TURBOCHARGER SPECIALIST

Most people think that diesel fuel additives are only used in the winter months to solve winter-type problems.

The real benefit of FPPF Fuel Power is to solve the year 'round problems that only a unique product like Fuel Power can solve:

* Totally disperses water to protect the fuel injection system
* Prevents the growth of algae
* Decarbonizes the entire fuel injection system which gives greater power.

Available in 8 oz. bottles, 1 gallon cans, 5 gallon pails, and 55 gallon drums.

CHECK (✓) THE FOLLOWING STATEMENTS WHICH APPLY TO YOU

_____ I WANT TO MAKE & SAVE MORE MONEY.
_____ I WANT LESS SHRINK AND HIGHER TEST WEIGHTS.
_____ I AM TIRED OF PAYING THE ELEVATOR TO STORE AND DRY MY CORN CROP.
_____ I WANT THE FLEXIBILITY TO SELL MY CROP, WHEN I WANT...WITHOUT MOISTURE DOCKAGE.

(If you've checked one or more of these statements - read the following to find out how.)

The one product that will satisfy all of these desires, is the AeroDry Grain Management System.

AeroDry uses natural fan forced air, controlled by computer, to dry your corn. There's no high heat, only mother nature's way of lowering moisture levels.

AeroDry can save you up to 75% of energy drying costs. The natural moisture removal process provides less shrink and higher test weights. You don't "cook" the quality out of your crop.

AeroDry's computer controls moisture levels day and night without baby-sitting. You make the profit the elevator makes, by selling your crop when you want - without moisture dockage.

If you're serious about making more money on your corn crop... you'll call AeroDry before the fall rush. Farm proven from the midwest to the east coast - AeroDry is FARM TECHNOLOGY FOR FARM PROFIT.

Why grow anything but the Best?

These producers did, and they have the awards to prove it!

C. Lee Caldwell, 1st place, Region 3, Beaver County, Alfalfa Grass, with WL 313
John Reed Rodgers, 1st Place, Region 2, Miflin County, Alfalfa Grass, with WL 320
Rick Telesz, Telesz Bros., 1st Place, Region 4, Lawrence County, Alfalfa, with WL 315
Gary Truckenmiller, R & G Truckenmiller, 2nd Place, Region 2, Northumberland County, Alfalfa, with WL 316
Norman H. Graham, 1st Place, Region 3, Butler County, Alfalfa, with WL 320 shown with Dr. John Baylor of Beachley Hardy Seed Co

We also salute the following special producers and achievements:

John Tautin, Top 10% in Region 4, Crawford County, was last year's champion with the same field. In four years of competition, this WL 316 field has yielded 27.5 tons, 6 tons crude protein, and 16 tons TDN.

Harold, Mark and Grant Gayman, Gaymere Farm, Franklin County, recorded an outstanding yield of 5.41 tons off a new seeding of WL 316, the highest yield of all new seedings entered in the competition.

Farm Philosophy

By Newton Bair

Defending the Afternoon Nap

I realize that this subject is loaded. In some polite circles it is absolutely verboten. In others it is ignored. But there are really some civilized people who practice it almost religiously, and swear to it's refreshing properties. I'm talking of course, about the snooze after lunch, whether observed on the living room couch, or snatched unobtrusively behind the newspaper where you think nobody can see you.

The Afternoon Nap, in the eyes of those who practice it openly at least, has some very positive therapeutic effects. After a long, hard mornings work and a fully refueled stomach, the metabolic processes of the human machine need to slow down for a fresh start. The mainspring must be rewound, the batteries re-charged, and the psyche re-psyched. A twenty minute snooze will do them all at once.

As a subject for the written page, it's almost like a confession of guilt, to be flaunted defiantly in the face of it's detractors. Yes, there are those who either sniff at us, (that's my confession), look down their nose with derision, or pretend to look the other way when the subject comes up. They wouldn't be caught dead taking an afternoon nap. They're the kind that would rather die with their boots on. So would I, for that matter, but not without taking a nap first.

I've known whole families of afternoon snoozers. They attributed it to heredity, but I really think it was more like a contagious malady, passed down like a virus of some kind. The really nice thing about the affliction is that it is never fatal. In fact, there is good evidence that the practice contributes to a longer life. Just like letting the brakes cool off periodically on a long grade. A nap cools down the machine and prevents undue and excessive wear on the old frame. And, of course, it also rejuvenates the cranial mechanism, which is a most important consideration.

In some countries, where it has become a National tradition, they call it a "siesta." That is a polite word for taking two hours to goof off from work. I do not recommend that anyone fool away two whole hours in the middle of the day. Those countries that practice the two-hour siesta are nearly bankrupt. Take Mexico and Brazil. They owe us lots of money, which they might well repay if they would cut their siesta time in half and use it for productive work. There can be too much of a good thing, and somebody has to pay. I have no objection to a half hour nap, but don't carry it too far.

Unfortunately, some big business executives, (and also some small ones I'm told), substitute a three martini lunch for the afternoon nap. That is not only expensive, but degrading and debilitating. It has no uplifting or refreshing effect on the body or the mind. It might even contribute to an early collapse of the body, to say nothing of the business. Some practitioners of the three-martini lunch have been known to spend the afternoon on the floor, which is never conducive to rest and rehabilitation.

To nap or not to nap, that is the question. I'm all for it, but would like to offer a few guidelines. Whether you do it lying down or hiding behind the newspaper, limit it to a half hour. Just make sure that you have the approval of your spouse, to avoid undue criticism. The happiest results are obtained when you both nap at the same time, preferably behind the same newspaper.

Holstein Field Day Set In Mercersburg

MERCERSBURG — Windy Knoll View Farm, located near here, will host the 1987 Franklin County Holstein Annual Field Day, Thursday, July 30, beginning at 10:00 a.m. Owned by James and Nina Burdette, Windy Knoll View Holsteins have a BAA of 106.4% with eight excellent cows in the 60-cow herd.

The field day will feature Jack Remsberg, a professional cattle photographer, as guest speaker. Remsburg will also serve as the official judge for the judging contest.

Agri-businesses will have displays and will also provide items to be given to the winners of the judging contest and as door prizes. Two leather halters will be awarded to two lucky juniors age 16 and under.

Lunches must be reserved by 11:00 a.m. and free milk and ice cream will be furnished.

Directions to the farm are as follows: On Route 16 in Mercersburg, turn at the traffic light onto Park Street. Windy Knoll View Farm is approximately 2.8 miles from the signal.

All Holstein enthusiasts are invited to attend for a day of fellowship, education and fun.

Welty Captures Hon

BY PAT PURCELL

QUARRYVILLE — Lancaster County 4-H Dairy Show on Wednesday, July 22, held a few surprises for both contestants and spectators.

There is a new name in the list of Lancaster County winners, but a name that is not new to winning. Holly J. Welty of Mt. Joy captured Holstein grand champion with her 7 year-old entry and Thomas McCauley took the reserve grand champion position with his 4 year old.

Welty, 15, moved to Lancaster County from New York state just two weeks ago. Her entry, Maybia Miller Farm Willow Suzie took grand champion August of 1986 at the New York State Fair. Her classification in Excellent and production according to Welty is at 34,000 lbs. The Dam is Lime Dam Springs Apollo Supreme.

Welty took first place with Maybia in the 5 years and Over class. Judge Jed Beshore selected the 7 year old because of her overall sharpness and cleanness of lines, her tremendous body and specifically her strong rear and front udder attachment. Welty also took a first in the senior dry cow 2 years and over and Ron Welty took first in the intermediate calf class.

Beshore said Wednesday's show exhibited some very good milking animals and that the overall quality of the animals was a great improvement over the past several years.

Jersey Show

Tom Arrowsmith of Peach Bottom took senior and grand champion with Hillacres Surville May, sired by Vaucluse Sleeping Surville. Tom took reserve champion with Hillacres Fame Tee, sired by Sun Valley Quicksilver. Helen Arrowsmith took the champion owner-breeder and Timothy Ulrich of Quarryville captured the reserve champion owner-breeder. Although the Arrowsmiths' captured the champion laurels the Rottmunds' captured first places in intermediate calf, dry cow senior 2 years and over, junior 2 year old and senior 2 year old.

Guernsey Show

Capturing the grand champion spot in the Guernsey show was 10-year-old Scott Wagner of Quarryville. Wagner has been showing BoJoy Rev. Robin for his three years in 4-H, but this was his first grand champion. BoJoy was sired by Fre Lyn Telestar Revelation ET.

According to the judge, Dr. James McAffree, the overall qual-

Maryland Junior Dairyman Contest Slated

TIMONIUM, Md. — Plans are underway for the 1987 Maryland PDCA Junior Dairyman of the Year Contest to be held Thursday, Sept. 3, during the Maryland State Fair in Timonium. Registration will be held at 12:30 p.m. in the Cow Palace, with the contest starting promptly at 1 p.m.

The contest, sponsored by the Maryland Purebred Dairy Cattle Association Inc., features a $300 scholarship for the top individual winner. Premiums will also be presented to the top junior and top 10 senior contestants and the top three senior teams.

The Junior Dairyman Contest covers all aspects of the dairy industry. There are four judging classes including dairy heifers, dairy cows, dairy goats and dairy steers. Identification classes include dairy products, milking system and the milking process, and feedstuffs and weeds. The contest has a management problem pertaining to animal health, breeding or genetics. A written exam of 50 questions is also given, with the questions being taken from the Hoard's Dairyman Magazine dated Aug. 10, 1986 through Aug. 10, 1987.

Competition is open to all 4-H, FFA and FAA members who have passed their eighth birthday by Jan. 1, 1987 and must not have passed their 19th birthday prior to Jan. 1, 1987.

Teams of three members from the same 4-H club or FFA, FAA chapter may enter and those persons who do not have a team may enter as individuals. There will be a junior and senior division for the contest.

Individuals or teams may enter the Junior Dairyman Contest by mailing their team name, individual name, address, phone number and age of all team members to MD PDCA Junior Dairyman of the Year Contest, Carroll County Extension Service, 700 Agriculture Center, Westminster, Maryland 21157. Entries must be postmarked no later than Friday, August 21, 1987.

For more information concerning the MD PDCA Junior Dairyman Contest contact the following superintendents: Diane G. Flickinger 301-635-6166, Carol S. Kahler 301-775-7177, Betty L. Cole 301-374-2888, David Patrick 301-489-4160 or E. Kim Cassel, Animal Sciences Center University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742 (301) 454-7828.

Maryland Farmer Wins Conservation Award

Montgomery County farmer Howard Williams and his wife, Christina, have won the prestigious award given by the National Endowment for Soil and Water Conservation and the DuPont Company for integrating the implementation of sound, innovative, and cost-effective conservation techniques into the management program of their 700-acre farm in Boyds, Maryland.

W. Lee McFarlane, State Coordinator for the National Endowment Awards Program, presenting the award at the annual meeting of the Maryland Association of Conservation Districts in Ocean City, stressed the importance of public recognition for farmers who make conservation a priority in their day-to-day operations.

"Conservation is an essential investment in a healthy agriculture, said McFarlane. "Maryland's number one industry is agriculture," he continued, "but many folks see us an an urban state. Here is a farmer who farms right in the middle of an urban area under the nose of Congress. We want the people of Maryland and the country to know that both agriculture and conservation are alive and well. We are very proud of Howard Williams and all the farmers like him!"

Williams and his wife, Christina, have incorporated practices such as no-till, contour strips, crop rotations, waterways, diversions, sediment control ponds, and integrated pest management into their farm management plan. "With a dwindling base of good farmland in our area, coupled with low commodity prices in recent years, we must make the most of our available land," says Williams. "Farmers have an obligation to prevent adverse effects to other elements of society caused by runoff from their farming operations," he continued. "Farmers also have an obligation to help conserve the nation's resources for future generations," Williams concluded.

Program to Help with Finances

STATE COLLEGE—With a $10,000 donation from the Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association and a $10,000 grant from the Pennsylvania Department of Education, Penn State is beginning a statewide program to help farmers with farm financial management.

The College of Agriculture has developed a computerized farm management education program to be used by high school vocational agriculture teachers and extension agents who work with adult farmers. The contributions from the state and the PYFA will fund a part-time position for an educational coordinator, beginning in September.

The computer program has been accepted by Penn State's Cooperative Extension as a way to make farm management education as uniform as possible statewide, says Don Mincemoyer, instructor of agricultural education at Penn State.

With the program, farmers will be able to analyze their farm financial records over the past few years and make projections for future years. Vocational agriculture teachers and extension agents are being trained to help farmers use the program and to interpret the results. The computer program will accept data from any computerized financial record-keeping program, Mincemoyer says.

The College worked with the Pennsylvania Farmers Association and the Farm Credit System, as well as private entrepreneurs, to develop a program that would support the record-keeping systems of these organizations.

Merril Brofee, a former Perry County dairy farmers and one of the initial users of computers on the farm, assisted in developing the program.

"The farmer will be able to calculate his cost per unit of production, then look at the market and decide if he can continue to produce with a margin of profit," Mincemoyer said. "The program will give him ratios and factors, such as what percentage of his gross income must go toward paying interest on loans. With this information, he can begin to analyze his business, and make decisions that may improve it."

The new program will provide a link among the farm industry, Cooperative Extension and agriculture in the schools, Mincemoyer said.

The Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association presented the $10,000 check to Dr. Lamartine F. Hood, dean of the College of Agriculture, on the Penn State campus on June 28. "I hope this program will be of benefit to all of the farmers of Pennsylvania," said Ron O'Neil, president of the PYFA.

"Penn State is always anxious to develop materials that will be helpful in farm management education," Dean Hood said. "This donation will help to support our efforts."

Dr. Samuel Curtis, head of the Department of Agricultural and Extension Education, said the ability to manage finances is one of the most critical factors in farming. "You've made an investment in agriculture that is every bit as important as investing in seed or a tractor," he told the PYFA members.

Dr. Lamartine F. Hood (left) accepts a check for $10,000 from Ronald O'Neil to initiate a statewide program to help farmers with farm financial management.

Teens To Bop To Milk Tunes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — The American Dairy Association and Dairy Council is airing two new radio ads directed at the teen market in order to help promote milk's healthy benefits. The ads are parodies of rock and roll tunes from the 1950s, a campaign strategy which has had great success.

The two new radio spots, "Chantilly Milk" and "Milkety Milk" are 60 seconds in length. They use the tune of "Chantilly Lace" and "Yakity Yak." originally recorded by the Big Bopper and the Coasters. While the music remains the same, the lyrics have been changed to promote the benefits of milk.

According to ADADC Executive Vice President Brian Ward, "use of popular 50s and 60s tunes in our milk ads has helped us break through the clutter on teen radio stations. Our research has shown that these ads are easily remembered by our teenage listening audience."

Commercial testing conducted by an independent research firm indicated that 35 percent of teenagers recalled the "Chantilly Milk" commercial within simulated radio programming. This recall level among teenagers is approximately double the average recall scores achieved for all beverage commercials tested by the firm.

ADADC will place the new radio ads on stations located in its top markets. This would include areas such as Manhattan, Scranton, Albany and Buffalo.

Lancaster Holstein Field Day Coming

Holstein Field Day is fast approaching. On Thursday night, Aug. 6, at 7:00 p.m. sharp, Harold and Cindy Shellenberger of Mt. Joy will be sharing their farm with us. We are sure this will be an evening the whole family will enjoy. For the men, prominent Holstein breeders Mr. Dennis Wolf (Pen-Col Farm) and Mr. David Burket (Burket Falls Farm) will be discussing their breeding techniques. For the women, Mrs. Joanne Hershey, a farm wife and past president of Lancaster Farm Women, there will be games and prizes, as well as door prizes for the adults. There will also be judging in the annual judging contest with awards given.

A full course meal of delicious oven-baked chicken will satisfy everyone's appetite while we all enjoy the beautiful sounds of "The Kemperlings."

Directions to the Shellenberger farm - Traveling west on Rt. 283 from Lancaster, exit at the Mt. Joy exit. This is Rt. 230. Travel all the way through the town of Mt. Joy. Look for J.B. Hostetter Hardware store on the right. Immediately turn left under the railroad bridge. Bear to the right. Immediately turn left again at the first road left. Turn left on Colebrook Rd. The first farm on the right is "Shelmar Acres."

The cost for the meal is $6.50 for adults and $4.25 for children. Reservations must be returned to Lowell Brubaker no later than July 31, 1987.

Dairy Conference Set In Lancaster

CAMP HILL — A free, day-long conference on the "Strategic Use of Whole Cotton Seed and Distillers Dried Grains with Solubles for Health and Productivity in High Producing Dairy Cows" will take place from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Aug. 4 at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center.

The Dairy Nutrition and Herd Health Conference is being sponsored by PACMA, a marketing affiliate of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association (PFA).

Three faculty members from the University of Pennsylvania's School of Veterinary Medicine will give 30-minute presentations followed by a panel discussion during the morning session. Leading off, Dr. David Galligan, Assistant Professor of Epidemiology in Animal Health Economics will discuss "Selecting Feed Ingredients with an Economic Emphasis." Afterwards, Dr. James Ferguson, Lecturer in Clinical Reproduction, will address the "Effects of Different Protein Sources on Health, Production and Reproduction." Finally Dr. William Chalupa, Professor of Nutrition, will discuss, "Effective Feeding of Whole Cotton Seed in Dairy Cows".

Following a free, buffet lunch, the conference will resume with a presentation on the "Whole Cotton Seed Supply vs. Demand Picture, Availability and Pricing Structures," by J. Michael Breedlove, President, Cottonseed,Inc. of Corninth, Miss...Richard Carlson, Marketing Representative for Archer, Daniels, Midland of Peoria, Ill., will address "Distillers Dried Grains w/Solubles, Supply Vs. Demand, Quality Control". PACMA Marketing Coordinator Dwight Allshouse will wrap up the conference with a discussion of "Forward Pricing for Profit".

The Lancaster Farm and Home Center is located at 1383 Arcadia Road, off Rt. 72 north of Lancaster. Reservations are necessary to insure food and seating arrangements. Call Dwight Allshouse at (717) 761-2740.

Jefferson Club Sale

SYKESVILLE — The eleventh annual Jefferson County Black and White Sale was held Saturday July 18, at the Jefferson County Town and Country Fairgrounds.

A total of twenty-nine animals were consigned from a selection of twenty-one area Holstein breeders for the annual event. Along with bred heifers a selection of milking heifers and a young Holstein calf were sold.

Tim Burkett of Punxsutawney was the top bidder of the day. Tim purchased Sandy-Holm Libell Shadow, a daughter of Carlin-M Ivanhoe Bell and Sandy-Holm Bernex Libby.

Shadow's maternal records consist of 1-11 16,945 pounds of milk and 749 pounds of fat. Selling at $2500, Shadow is bred to Double-Good Bova Jethro ET. The consignor of Shawod is Charles N. Ames, of Mayport.

The average sale price of these bred Holsteins was $1245, up by $391 from last year's average. The sale selecting and managing was conducted by the Jefferson County Holstein Club under Jim London, sale chairman. Mark Glick of Reedsville served as the auctioneer for the eleventh straight year, while pedigrees were read by Howard Hammond of Corry.

This Little Pig Went To Washington

Carolyn Lechlider knows just what to do for a hot pig — take him for a ride in an air-conditioned car and turn up the stereo!

On the 4th of July Mrs. Lechlider and her pig went to Washington to celebrate farming in the National Independence Day Parade and Festival. The Montgomery County Farm Bureau and the Maryland Earm Bureau co-sponsored a float and titled it, "The American Farmer."

"We wanted to celebrate the Bicentennial of the Constitution," said Lechlider, "as well as the fact that the men who created it were, for the most part, farmers."

With this theme in mind, Lechlider and her committee, Barbara Anne Stiles, Michelle Reilly, Diana Lee Patton and Margaret Coleman, made colonial costumes for the seven children who rode the float and the two drivers who managed the horses that pulled it. Gabriel Reilly wielded the mean-looking antique sythe with cradle loaded for the occasion by Stanley Stabler. Amy Iager and Shelly Madsen sat within the chestnut worm fence and tended the livestock — a lamb and the pig. The Pattons' turf farm donated the green "pasture". Kersten Madsen was the "mother" and looked lovely in her apron and bonnet. Three-year-old David Lechlider carried the water bucket. Robert Kucklewicz used the Stiles' antique wooden hay rake to good advantage and Christine Reilly hoed the corn which was as high as an elephant's eye. She had to part the lush green stalks to be seen; Mrs. Stiles had nurtured it to perfection. Mrs. Reilly and her children painted the signs.

The lamb stood by sheepishly. But the pig squealed, causing laughter from the crowd and concern from Mrs. Lechlider and her grandson on the float. The day was hot and humid as the parade ended and she picked up the little pink pig and lifted him into his cage in the back of her car. "I turned the air-conditioning on high and the radio to something soothing," she said, "and the pig went right to sleep. And snored all the way home." Back in Laytonsville he and David are running about, happily dreaming of red, white and blue flags and the applause of crowds.

The Nation's Capitol was perfect for our country's birthday and American farmers from San Francisco to Easton were proudly represented in the national parade. Lechlider and the American Farmer float committee wrote this description to be read as the waving grain, green corn, big horses and beautiful children wafted past the reviewing stand: We the People were mostly farmers. Here the American Farmer float, sponsored by the Montgomery County Farm Bureau and the Maryland Farm Bureau, commemorates the Bicenntennial of the Constitution by depicting the farm family of 1787. They live in a log house and the entire family works hard to provide food.

Today's farm family has pretty much the same values as did the authors of the Constitution. They are independent thinkers with a firm belief in God, the family and education. Cohesiveness is reinforced as everyone works and everyone benefits. The farm with its green pastures and still waters remains the place most Americans would like to live.

Thanks and Congratulations

It was the very stylish Sunnybend Lucious which took junior champion honors for Sunnybend Farm, owned by Tom and June Boyers, in York. The intermediate calf was selected for being very stylish, smooth and well-balanced by Myers. Sunnybend Lucious was sired by Marshfield Elevation Tony. The dam was Sunnybend Fritzi Kingpin Nick.

Reserve junior champion honors went to Beshore Farms' C. Lloyds Warden Rosaline. This junior yearling heifer, exhibited by C. E. Hubbard is the offspring of Hilltopper Elevation Warden and the dam is Lloyds Senator Rose.

Western PA Dairy Farmer To Vote On Milk Order

A referendum in which dairy farmers shipping milk to the Eastern Ohio-Western Pennsylvania milk marketing area will have an opportunity of expressing their approval or disapproval of an amended order, will be concluded on August 7, 1987.

The amended order will include the terms and provisions of the order currently regulating the handling of milk in the Eastern Ohio-Western Pennsylvania marketing area with the following changes and modifications:

The proposed amendatory action would amend the above-named order by reclassifying from Class III to Class II skim milk and butterfat used to produce eggnog, ice cream and other related frozen dessert products.

Qualified cooperative associations of producers will be permitted to cast bloc votes on behalf of their members on all provisions of the amended order.

A notice of referendum, a decision which contains the provisions of the order as proposed to be amended, and a ballot have been mailed to all known eligible voters. No voting by proxy is permitted and each producer will be entitled to only one vote regardless of the number of farms he operates. Partnerships, corporations and other business organizations which operate dairy farms will be entitled to only one vote regardless of the number of partners, shareholders, or others which make up the organization.

The amended order was considered at a public hearing held in Romulus, Michigan on October 28, 1986.

Dairy farmers who may not have received a ballot through the mail and who feel that they are eligible to vote should call the USDA Referendum Agent at (216) 826-3220.

Conservation Reserve Sign-up Underway

YORK — The fifth sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) is from July 20-31, 1987. According to W. Dean Manifold of Stewartstown, "Operators and landowners may offer highly erodible acres of cropland for CRP and receive annual rental payments from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Each applicant may competitively bid on the rents per acre to idle the acreage for a 10-year period."

Manifold, a member of the York County ASC Committee, continued "Eligible land must be row cropped 2 of 5 years from 1981-1985, and have a highly erodible classification. Eligible persons are owners that owned the land at least three (3) years and operators that can prove control of the cropland for the ten (10) year period." Owners that normally cash rent cropland to farmers may submit a CRP after they operate the farm for the one (1) year or provide evidence that the farm operator ceased farming and land voluntarily.

Bidders may select the effective year of the contract as 1987 or 1988. Acreage for 1987 cannot have been harvested including haying. Cropland offered for 1988 CRP's may not be grazed after October 1, 1987 or after normal harvest of 1987 crops.

Interested applicants are encouraged to visit the York ASCS Office during the sign-up period.

The York County ASCS Office is located at 120 Pleasant Acres Rd., phone 755-2801.

Brothers Show Steer Champions At Kimberton

A good show at the Kimberton Fair Monday evening.

BY MARJORIE KEEN
Chester Co. Correspondent

KIMBERTON — Two brothers from Downingtown showed the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion 4-H Market Steers at Kimberton Community Fair Monday night. Jonathon Howe's 905-lb. Light Weight Angus was awarded the Grand Champion Rosette by Jamie Kohr, 1987 Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Princess. David Howe's 1025-lb. Light Heavy Weight animal was presented with the Reserve Champion Rosette.

Winners in the Fitting classes were: (over 15) Anita Howe, Downingtown, 1st; Lane Lineberger, Downingtown, 2nd; (12, 13 and 14) Amy Eshleman, Sinking Springs, Berks County, 1st; Matthew Howe, Downingtown, 2nd; (8, 9, 10 and 11) Matt McAllister, Downingtown, 1st; David Howe, 2nd.

Showmanship awards went to: (over 15) Anita Howe, 1st; Richard Cabot, Downingtown, 2nd; (12-14) Matt Howe, 1st; Amy Eshleman, 2nd; (8-11) David Howe, 1st; Jonathon Howe, 2nd.

Winners in the type classes were: Light Weight, Jon Howe, 1st; Matt McAllister, 2nd; Medium Weight, Anita Howe, 1st; Richard Cabot, 2nd; Light Heavy Weight, David Howe, 1st; Marty Rosenberg, Downingtown, 2nd; Heavy Weight, Lane Lineberger, 1st; Amy Eshleman, 2nd.

Chester County's 4-H Market Steer Roundup will be held at the Pennsylvania Farm Show next January.

Judge for the beef classes was Nelson Beam, Elverson. Bill Flagg, Phoenixville, served as beef superintendent. Chester County Extension Livestock Agent Cheryl Fairbairn was the announcer.

Tri-Community Seeing Eye Club garnered the top award among major group exhibits contributing to a better understanding of agriculture or agribusiness. Tri-Community Dairy Club had the 2nd-place exhibit in the 4-H division.

Hearthside Quiters took top honors for Family Group exhibits. The Clyde Scheiv family placed 2nd.

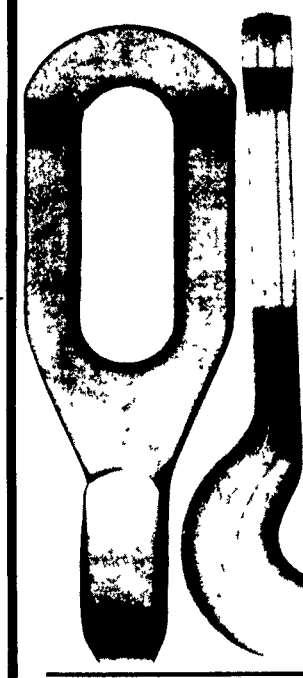
and a new 10 YEAR WARRANTY!

ALL-FORGED HOOK-LINK™ CHAIN...
Available on Super 300 and Super 500 barn cleaners



Extra thick steel at all wear points

The Hook-Links are (1) totally forged, (2) reinforced with extra steel at wear points, and (3) thoroughly hardened for maximum strength by means of closely controlled heat treating

Hook-Links are reinforced at both the hook neck and at the wear point of the eye The high tensile strength Hook-Link features 5/8-in thick steel at the wear points Extra thickness is provided where it is needed for longer service life

Easy take-up without tools

Welded paddle assembly:

Paddles with reinforced wear shoes are welded to the Hook-Link at a 12° angle so manure liquids tend to be carried by the 4 in deep trailing end of the paddle

IMPORTANT: Look for the "parting line" on any barn cleaner chain you buy It shows where excess metal has been trimmed off It is your assurance that the link was totally forged, not just punched out of a flat steel bar with grain flow in one direction only

You want a totally-forged link because forging changes the grain of the steel, causing it to curve in unbroken flow lines around the contours of the link, giving the link greater strength to serve you longer

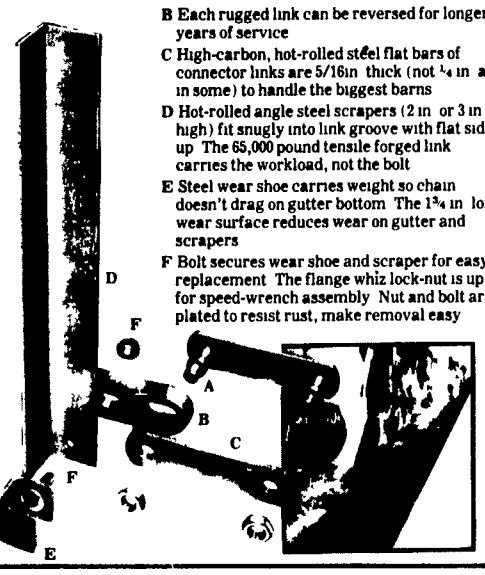
RUGGED REVERSIBLE FORGED LINK CHAIN...
Available on Super 300, Super 500 and Super 750 barn cleaners

Wear is reduced because the links act as bearings for the machined alloy pins Contoured holes fit the shape of the concave pins to provide a broad bearing surface

Strength for years of the toughest service

This rugged reversible forged link chain with high tensile strength fits many cleaners now on the market Chain links are made from solid billets of high carbon steel (for hardness) and worked on a drop forge while the steel is red-hot, and heat treated after forging to assure uniform strength throughout and high resistance to wear If you're thinking of replacing your barn cleaner chain, first get the facts on this one Your local dealer is the man to see

Dovetail design keeps link pins tight
Impact swaging dovetails pins to prevent loosening even if they are worn smooth (See diagram)
Reversible chain lasts longer



Basic components of link chain

A Cold-rolled alloy steel pins of connector links are double swaged so they cannot work loose, so moisture can't corrode them Pins fit contour of links

B Each rugged link can be reversed for longer years of service

C High-carbon, hot-rolled steel flat bars of connector links are 5/16in thick (not 1/4 in as in some) to handle the biggest barns

D Hot-rolled angle steel scrapers (2 in or 3 in high) fit snugly into link groove with flat side up The 65,000 pound tensile forged link carries the workload, not the bolt

E Steel wear shoe carries weight so chain doesn't drag on gutter bottom The 1 3/4 in long wear surface reduces wear on gutter and scrapers

F Bolt secures wear shoe and scraper for easy replacement The flange whiz lock-nut is up for speed-wrench assembly Nut and bolt are plated to resist rust, make removal easy

Tax Reform Means Double The Taxes

UNIVERSITY PARK — The Tax Reform Act of 1986 will more than double the federal tax bill of almost half of Pennsylvania's family farms, according to a Penn State study.

For 41 percent of the state's family-owned farms, taxes will increase an average of 132 percent, or $1,343, when the new law is fully implemented in 1988, concluded Larry C. Jenkins, extension economist in Penn State's Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology, and William Grisley, formerly of the department.

For 45 percent of the farm families, there should be no change in income tax, Jenkins said. Many of these families paid little income tax under the prior law because of a combination of factors, including low earnings, substantial personal deductions, large business deductions such as depreciation, and the use of investment credits.

A lucky 14 percent will actually pay less tax under the new law, the researchers found. They are not sure what factors are involved in those cases, but believe the larger standard deduction and personal exemptions included in the new law may be responsible.

However, 41 percent of the state's more than 50,000 family farms will pay more in taxes in the wake of tax reform. Jenkins said the increase will vary depending on the type of farm, family size and other factors.

The researchers analyzed data from more than 3,000 Pennsylvania single-family farms of all types to predict tax payments.

Those dairy farms that pay higher taxes will see their bills go up an average of $1,305 more per family, an average increase of 159 percent, Jenkins said. Other increases and percent increases for those farms that see increases will be: crops, $1,292 more (88 percent increase); beef, $996 (89 percent); sheep, $695 (67 percent); hogs, $1,543 (116 percent); turkeys/broilers, $2,270 (106 percent); eggs, $3,970 (87 percent); vegetables, $1,114 (185 percent), and fruit, $2,039 (77 percent).

For dairy farmers, the most devastating portion of the new tax law is probably the loss of the capital gain exclusion, Jenkins said. Formerly, farmers who sold cull livestock, such as aging dairy cows, only had to pay taxes on 40 percent of the sale price. Now, they must pay taxes on the entire amount, adding $3,900 to the taxable income of the average dairy farm.

For poultry farmers, the loss of investment credits will hurt the most, Jenkins said. Many of them have been expanding in recent years, and were able to deduct 10 percent of the cost of buildings and equipment from tax payments each year.

Also affecting tax payments are loss of the two-earner deduction; changes in depreciation regulations; and changes in the way farmers count expenses they must put into an operation before they see a return on their investments, Jenkins said.

A detailed review of the study on the impact of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 on Pennsylvania Farmers is available by writing to Farm Management Extension, 202 Armsby Building, Penn State, University Park, Pa. 16802, or by telephoning (814) 865-7656.

Atlantic Schedules Picnic

SOUTHAMPTON, PA — Atlantic Dairy Cooperative districts in the Lancaster and Lebanon County area have scheduled their annual picnic at Muddy Run Park for Monday, Aug. 3.

Dr. Paul E. Hand, Atlantic's general manager, will be the guest speaker. Hand will report on cooperative business, noting the price situation and the status of the Atlantic merger.

The picnic is open to members in Districts, 3, 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, 15 and 35. Members are asked to bring their own lunch. Milk, ice cream and cheese will be provided.

Registration begins at 10:30 a.m., with lunch scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

Atlantic Dairy Cooperative represents 4,100 dairy farm families in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Crop Report Released

FOR THE WEEK ENDING JULY 19

GOOD WEEK FOR FIELD WORK: Five days were rated suitable for field work this past week. Activities for the week included: harvesting small grains, hay, and haylage; spraying corn and soybeans; machinery maintenance; caring for livestock.

SOIL MOISTURE: Topsoil moisture was rated short by 18 percent of our reporters, adequate by 73 percent, and surplus by 9 percent. In the northern region, 11 percent rated supplies short, 78 percent adequate, and 11 percent surplus. In the central region, supplies were rated short by 23 percent, adequate by 64 percent, and surplus by 13 percent. In the southern region, supplies were rated short by 20 percent and adequate by 80 percent.

CORN: By the end of the week, 27 percent of the state's corn acreage was in the silking stage of development. This compares to 20 percent last year and 14 percent on the average. The average corn stalk height was 59 inches, 6 inches taller than last year and 12 inches taller than the five year average. The corn crop condition was rated 2 percent poor, 11 percent fair, 43 percent good, and 44 percent excellent.

SOYBEANS: Across the state, soybeans were rated 3 percent poor, 16 percent fair, 49 percent good, and 32 percent excellent.

WHEAT: Our reporters indicate that 16 percent of the wheat was turning yellow, 42 percent was ripe, and 42 percent was harvested. Last year the crop was 10 percent turning yellow, 38 percent ripe, and 52 percent harvested. The crop's condition was 2 percent poor, 16 percent fair, 54 percent good, and 28 percent excellent.

BARLEY: The state's barley crop was 9 percent turning yellow, 11 percent ripe, and 80 percent harvested compared to 4 percent turning yellow, 19 percent ripe, and 77 percent harvested last year. NOTE: Last week's barley in the ripe stage should have been reported as 17 percent rather than 7 percent.

OATS: Reports show the state's oat crop to be 26 percent headed or heading, 35 percent turning yellow, 28 percent ripe, and 11 percent harvested. In 1986 the crop was 18 percent headed or heading, 42 percent turning yellow, 34 percent ripe, and 6 percent harvested. The oats crop condition was 1 percent poor, 15 percent fair, 48 percent good, and 36 percent excellent.

HAY AND PASTURE: The second cutting of alfalfa hay was 47 percent complete compared to last year's 57 percent. The first cutting of clover-timothy was 92 percent complete compared to 97 percent last year. Quality of hay was rated poor by 36 percent of our reporters, fair by 46, and good by 18 percent. The amount of feed being obtained from pasture was rated above average by 17 percent of our reporters, average by 73 percent, and below average by 10 percent.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES: Peaches were rated in about average condition by 6 percent of our reporters, average by 75 percent, and below average by 19 percent. Apples were rated in above average condition by 19 percent of our reporters, average by 76 percent, and below average by 5 percent. Early varieties of cabbage and sweet corn are being harvested.

U.S. AS OF JULY 12: Rain spurred crop growth and development across the Corn Belt and Central Great Plains. Crop development continued ahead of normal in most areas. Precipitation eased the dry conditions in the Northern Great Plains. Crops were mostly in good condition throughout the nation. Winter wheat was 70 percent harvested compared with 72 percent in 1986 and 63 percent normally. Harvest increased 10 points despite rain in the Northern and Central Plains and the Corn Belt. Corn condition was mostly good to excellent. In the 17 major corn producing states, silking was 47 percent finished, nearly three times greater than normal. Silking more than doubled from the previous week. The soybean crop was 48 percent in the bloom stage in the 19 major soybean producing states — more than doubling the 20 percent average.

Milk Priced At $11.35 In Federal Order 2

NEW YORK — Dairy farmers who supplied milk plants regulated under the New York-New Jersey marketing orders during June 1987 will be paid on the basis of a uniform price of $11.35 per hundredweight, 24.4 cents per quart; the price for the corresponding month last year was $11.27 per hundredweight. Market Administrator Thomas A. Wilson stated that the price was $11.30 in May 1987. The uniform price is a marketwide weighted average of the value of farm milk used for fluid and manufactured dairy products.

The seasonal incentive plan removed 40 cents per hundredweight from the dairy farmers' uniform price for June, a total of $4 million. Deductions for this fund for March through June 1987 aggregated $13.3 million. The fund, plus interest, will be distributed in the August through November uniform price calculations.

A total of 14,845 dairy farmers supplied the New York-New Jersey Milk Marketing Area with 1 billion pounds of milk during June 1987. This was a decrease of 3.6 percent, about 37 million pounds from last year. The gross value to dairy farmers for milk deliveries was $113.9 million. This included differentials required to be paid to dairy farmers but not voluntary premiums or deductions authorized by the farmer.

Regulated milk dealers used 363.2 million pounds of milk for Class I, 36.3 percent of the total. This milk is used for fluid milk products such as homogenized, flavored, low test, and skim milks. For June 1987, handlers paid $13.55 per hundredweight, 29.1 cents per quart, for Class I milk compared with $13.53 a year ago.

The balance, 63.7 percent was used to manufacture Class II products including butter, cheese, ice cream, and yogurt. Handlers paid $10.96 per hundredweight for this milk.

The uniform price is based on milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat.

Nineteen Students To Attend Institute

HUNTINGDON — Nineteen high school students are bound for the National Institute on Cooperative Education in St. Louis next month, courtesy of cooperatives in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Delaware.

The students were participants in the 27th annual Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives (PAFC) Summer Youth Institute held at Juniata College in mid-July. The four-day educational conference on cooperatives and the economic system drew 120 students from the four-state area.

The highlight of the awards luncheon, however, is the presentation of the Jay Irwin Leadership Award, which is awarded to two individuals who demonstrate leadership throughout the program as well as exhibit knowledge of the cooperative system.

This year's recipients are Irene Benner of Millerstown, PA and Bill Lewis of Antwerp, NY.

Each state also recognized students who achieved the best score on the final day's examination on cooperative basic principals, according to Chris Peterson, PAFC youth program director.

Students selected to attend the NICE program, sponsored by the American Institute on Cooperation, are evaluated on their community leadership, PAFC Institute participation, poise and knowledge of cooperatives, he said.

The 19 students and their sponsors follow:

Seven Pennsylvania students are sponsored by PAFC: Irene Benner, Millerstown; Kim Hopple, Mechanicsburg; Junia Laughery, Union City; Todd Marwine, Dover; David Price, Nicholson; Janet Sweinhart, New Enterprise; and James Zakostekecky, Conneautville.

Six students are sponsored by Atlantic Dairy Cooperative: Susie Burkhart, Mohnton, PA; Christine Davidson, Shippensburg, PA; Benjamin Dum, Elliottsburg, PA; Tim Eachus, Elmer, NJ; Susan Eisenhart, New Park, PA; and Dwight Stoltzfus, Morgantown, PA.

Three New York students are sponsored by the New York Council of Farmer Cooperatives: Paul Kish, Fillmore; Bill Lewis, Antwerp; and Amy Seeley, Marcellus.

Two students are sponsored by the Delaware Council of Farmer Cooperatives: Donya Argo and Judith Urban, both of Milford, DE.

One student is sponsored by the New Jersey Council of Farmer Cooperatives: Lou Anne Schillaci, Robbinsville, NJ.

Exam winners for each state include: Pennsylvania, Sweinhart and Tamara Lobaugh, Aspers; New York, Seeley and Lee Clark, Gouverneur; Delaware, Argo; and New Jersey, Dennis Symons, Robbinsville.

Peterson said the program is made possible because of the efforts of the five returning youth staff members and the 29 adult volunteers who help organize and direct the program.

The program is a joint project of PAFC and the Pennsylvania State University College of Agriculture. A 10-year employee of the Cooperative Business Education Program, Gale Miller, was recognized for her service at the luncheon.

PSU Department of Agricultural Education and Extension Head Dr. Sam Curtis presented Miller with a solid oak, handmade hall tree. He and PAFC President Robert M. Dever expressed appreciation for Miller's quiet efficiency which is the glue that holds together such programs as the Youth Institute. Peterson also made a presentation from the volunteer staff.

Other awards included Best Pitch, David Price; Best Reading, Dwight Stoltzfus; Best Poster, Bobby Bingaman, Waynesboro, PA and Andrew Kushman, Edinburg, PA; Variety Show Award, Individual, Tade Sullivan, Malone, NY; and Variety Show Award, Group, New York.

The Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives, organized in 1933, is a trade association representing about 40 agricultural cooperatives that operate in the Commonwealth. Agricultural cooperatives generate about $3.2 billion in economic activity in the Commonwealth each year.

30 YEARS AGO
THIS WEEK

- Soaking rains fell on most of Pennsylvania Tuesday to alleviate near existing drought conditions on Pennsylvania farm crops, the State Department of Agriculture said following Federal-State surveys.

Described as a "multi-million dollar rainfall," the same conditions were reported from all areas of the Commonwealth.

- Effective control of Hessian fly in wheat by a single application of chemical insecticide mixed with the fertilizer at seeding time may soon replace the current practice of delayed seeding.

Field-size tests at the Missouri Experiment Station here in 1956 gave almost perfect control on heavily infested land even though the wheat was seeded on Sept. 6, a full month before the fly-free date in this area.

- The total supply of nitrogen, phosphates and potash for the 12 months ended June 30 is currently estimated to have been slightly less than for the previous year, according to the Fertilizer situation yearly review.

- Home gardeners and farmers in eastern Pennsylvania have just about seen the last of this year's Japanese beetle, but soil moisture in the western part of the State has kept beetle population at a peak, the State Department of Agriculture said today.

Beetle damage in eastern Pennsylvania is reportedly the smallest in recent years because of hot and humid temperatures, according to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the State Bureau of Plant Industry. Favorable weather in the western sections is expected to prolong the beetle season there.

- Food donations by the U.S. Department of Agriculture reached a record high in the fiscal year ended June 30, under an active Department effort to dispose of surpluses. A total of 2,818,400,000 pounds of food was donated during the year to recipients here and abroad through the direct distribution program conducted by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

- Excessively hot weather during the month of June held down egg production, the State Department of Agriculture reported today. Production was 275 million eggs in comparison with 307 million during May.

Last Chance For Jersey Farmer-Business Picnic

A final count is being tallied for this year's Farmers'-Businessmen's Picnic on Wednesday, July 29, at Stonegate Standardbred Farms, Hill Road, Route 628, Glen Gardner. "Our caterer, Gene Maddalena, needs to know how much food to prepare," says August Knispel, Franklin Township dairy farmer and chairman of the Picnic Committee. "And we need to know how many drivers and hay wagons will be required to accommodate everyone going on the tour," continues Mr. Knispel.

Stonegate Standardbred Farms specializes in the breeding and raising of trotters and pacers for the race tracks. The wagon tour will include the fenced grazing areas, stops at the breeding barn and lots of information about Stonegate's operation. A film will be shown in one of the barns and there will be many commodity exhibits to highlight Hunterdon County's diverse and viable agricultural industry. Tours are between 5 and 7 p.m., the picnic supper begins at 7 p.m. Tickets are $8 each. Checks can be made payable to the Hunterdon County Board of Agriculture and mailed to 4 Gauntt Place, Flemington, NJ. 08822. For more details call (201) 788-1338.

Londondale Holsteins Sweep Jefferson County Show

BY BETH NESBIT
Indiana Co. Correspondent

SYKESVILLE—Londondale Farm of Punxsutawney captured the top awards in the Jefferson County Holstein Show on July 15. Londondale Matinee Dutchess, senior 2 year old daughter of Higher-View Matinee bred by James London received all the top honors in the open show capturing the grand champion, the supreme champion and the best owned and bred awards.

Dennis London, also of Londondale Farm, captured the reserve grand champion title with Londondale Sexation Maureen, a 4-year-old Ocean-View Sexation daughter.

Reinsel Farms of Mayport took the top honors in the Jersey breed open show on July 14. Five-year-old Tenn Soldiers Pride daughter, Betsy, was chosen as the grand champion. Reinsel Farms captured the reserve grand champion position.

In the junior category Jefferson County 4-H'er Steve McClelland captured the grand champion position with his senior 2 year old. Not only did Steve have the grand champion, but he also took best owned and bred award. Dan McClelland lead his 3 year old to the reserve champion position.

Cathy Kennis held her 4-year-old Lamborghini daughter in the grand champion position for the Guernsey breed. Fellow 4-H member Chris Haag held his junior 2 year old for the reserve grand champion Guernsey title. In the 4-H competition Haag received the senior and grand champion titles. Kennis took the reserve champion with her dry 3-year-old-and-over class winner.

Reach For The Sky!

New Holland "Super Boom" loaders lift the payload forward as the boom rises. So you get more forward dump reach where you need it most. Extra dump reach means you can load the center of a tandem-axle dump truck.

Super Boom loaders also feature a longer wheelbase for increased stability and fast cycle times for more productivity.

Models range from 28.5 to 75 horsepower with SAE load rating up to 2,050 pounds.

Ask us for a demonstration. You'll see how much better a skid-steer loader can be.

Major Dairy Sales And Dispersals Nationwide

Reports from four sales for the week of July 16 to 22 averaged $3,473 on 356 head. The sales were held in Ohio, Wisconsin and Colorado. The top prices at the sales ranged from $54,000 to $10,000. The following is a brief look at the results of these sales.

BROWN SWISS

The NATIONAL BROWN SWISS SALE held in Ohio averaged $4,980 on 51 head.

Topping the sale on a bid of $14,500 was a bred heifer sired by Elegant. She will freshen in September to Sterling. She earned honorable mention All-American junior yearling honors in 1986.

Her dam, sired by Stretch and classified 2E, produced a top record in 320 days of 27,770 milk and 1,345 fat. The second dam, 2E, has records to 20,865 milk. Classified VG-86, the third dam completed a best effort of 20,320 milk at 13 years.

The second high price of $12,000 came on a aged cow sired by Stretch Improver. Classified 4E, she produced a top record of 26,910 milk, 1,074 fat, and 979 protein in 365 days. She is averaging over 90 pounds of milk per day in her present lactation.

Tim Eiting and Darrell Worden shared the auctioneering assignment and Wayne Sliker managed the sale.

HOLSTEIN

The THIRD INDIANHEAD INVITATIONAL SALE held in Wisconsin averaged $3,118 on 65 lots.

Topping the sale on a bid of $10,000 was an October 1986 calf sired by Mark Anthony. She is a full sister to Startmore Sterling. The sale of this heifer was a straight cash deal; no syndicates were involved.

Her dam, classified EX-92 and sired by Valiant, produced a Wisconsin leading record of 1,440 fat. The next dam classified EX-92 and was sired by Astronaut.

A junior 2 year old sired by Shiek sold for the second high price of $8,500. She is backed by four generations of Very Good and Excellent dams with high production.

Selling for a bid of $7,000 was a junior 2 year old sired by Arlinda Chief. She is backed by three Excellent dams with production records over 1,000 fat.

The pick of the litter sired by Enhancer earned the fourth best price of $5,700. The dam classified EX-94 and produced a best effort of 24,269 milk. Her pedigree boasts three generations of Excellent dams.

Sale sponsor and co-manager Robert Schauf of Indianhead Holsteins noted the sale featured strong cow families, not high indexing individuals. The average was the same as the last sale two years ago. He commented that the sale reflected the true market prices of these animals. Morris and Hoskens co-managed and auctioneered the sale.

The RENDEZVOUS '87 SALE held in Colorado averaged $3,054 on 58 head.

Topping the sale on a bid of $52,500 was an open 4 year old. Classified VG-88, she sold with $55,000 worth of AI contracts and a seven embryo guarantee. The Bova daughter completed a best effort of 23,570 milk, 1,127 fat, and 750 protein. She carries a Cow Index of plus 1,149 milk and produced over 100 pounds of milk on her May test.

Her dam, an EX-90 GMD sired by Premiere, produced a best record of 25,000 milk and 1,102 fat. The next dam scored EX-92 2E GMD with records to 30,150 milk and 1,256 fat. The third dam, classified Very Good, owns records up to 25,000 milk and 1,011 fat.

A bred heifer due in December to Enhancer sold for the next high price of $5,100. Sired by Rotate, she earned All-Kansas winter yearling honors in 1986.

Her dam, a Good Plus Pete daughter, completed a top lactation of 22,270 milk with a 3.9 test. The second dam produced records to 22,270 milk and 887 fat. Classified Excellent, the next dam registered a best effort of 33,620 milk and 1,391 fat.

Jim Ellis handled the auctioneering assignment and the Colorado Holstein Association managed the sale.

The PACLAMAR FARMS COMPLETE DISPERSAL held in Colorado averaged $2,740 on 182 head.

A 5 year old by Valiant garnered the high price of the sale, $54,000. Classified EX-92, she is a full sister to Mandingo and Baltimore. She completed a best effort of 26,570 milk and 1,091 fat. Due in December to Georgia Boy, she sold with an AI contract.

Her dam, 3E-96 GMD, owns records to 41,420 milk and 1,378 fat with a lifetime effort over 200,000 milk.

An Excellent 3 year old sired by Elevation Mark sold for the next high price of $16,000. She earned All-Colorado honors in 1986.

R.E. Brooks, partner, noted there were nearly as many buyers as cows at the sale. Buyers came from across the nation and Japan. He decided to disperse the herd when his managing partner, Neil Owen, became very ill.

Jim Ellis, Gary Estes and Tim Massey auctioneered the sale which was managed by Burton and Fellers.

Delaware Friends Of Ag Breakfast Set

Congressman Thomas R. Carper will discuss the future of farm subsidies and how they relate to the 1985 Food Security Act during the Friends of Agriculture buffet breakfast July 31.

The breakfast, which will begin at 7:30 a.m. at the Sheraton Inn in Dover, is open to the public. Reservations for the meal at $5 per person must be made by July 27.

Friends of Agriculture breakfasts are sponsored by leaders of the Delaware agricultural community and are coordinated by the Delaware Cooperative Extension System.

To make reservations, contact Dave Woodward, extension state leader for agriculture, at 451-2505.

Farm Bureau Makes Recommendations From Study

CAMP HILL — A study committee of the nation's largest farm family organization has recommended innovative action in 14 areas affecting agriculture in order to improve farm income.

The American Farm Bureau Federation's 22-member Farm Income Study Committee announced its recommendations today following a ten-month investigation. The committee which included Richard Newpher, Administrative Secretary of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association (PFA), was directed to leave "no stone unturned" in finding ways to improve income opportunities for farmers. It received counsel and ideas from 75 experts in developing its recommendations.

American Farm Bureau's Board of Directors has approved the recommendations which involve the areas of transportation, taxes, trade, export markets, allies, monetary policy, federal budget, less developed countries, biotechnology, farm policy, foreign policy, risk management, research consortiums, and integrated pest management.

A total of 58 recommendations were approved. While many are longer term in potential economic impact, examples of those that would have an immediate impact on farm income are:

— Restore the Farm Credit System to financial viability;

— Administer the Conservation Reserve so that farmers will participate in it as a management tool;

— Preserve the confidentiality of railroad rate contracts;

— Further deregulate the trucking industry;

— Seek tax law changes, including income averaging and annual expensing of preproduction expenses;

— Prevent trade restrictions on imported farm machinery;

— Plan an active role in national and international economic and trade policy deliberations;

— Change monetary policy to favor steady money growth without inflation;

— Change current policies for dealing with the bad debts of developing countries to provide more benefit to farmers and less to money center banks;

— Provide national leadership to farmers in the field of biotechnology;

— Allow the current farm bill, which offers the best short-term policy, to run its course;

— Prevent oil import taxes;

— Keep fertilizer imports and exports free of duties and trade restrictions;

— Encourage farmers to increase their influence on foreign policy issues that affect their market income opportunitites;

— Seek federal spending cuts to balance the budget. A sound alternative would be a freeze in real federal spending with further cuts in business and personal tax rates;

— Establish priorities in utilization, production, marketing and financial research;

— Encourage the use and promotion of integrated pest management;

— Step up program to educate and inform farmers about risk management.

Newpher commented, "There is no area of farm bureau involvement that is more important than improving the net farm income of those who produce food and fiber. For those interested in the immediate and long-term health of U.S. agriculture, this study represents a long unfinished agenda that will require the best of leadership from all quarters — farmers, support industries, universities and government — in the future."

According to American Farm Bureau, while net cash farm income has moved slowly upward in recent years, a substantial number of farmers remain in debt difficulty. A recent USDA estimate puts the number at 108,000 nationwide, or 17% of commercial farmers — those with annual farm sales of $40,000 or more.

American Farm Bureau is a general farm organization representing over 3.5 million members nationwide. PFA is the state affiliate of American Farm Bureau and represents over 23,400 farm families in 54 county associations.

Poland Eligible For More Wheat

WASHINGTON — Under Secretary of Agriculture Daniel S. Amstutz today announced an additional opportunity for sales of U.S. wheat to Poland under the U.S. Department of Agriculture's export enhancement program. Sales of wheat will be made to buyers in Poland at competitive world prices.

Amstutz said this initiative will give U.S. exporters the opportunity to sell 500,000 metric tons of wheat. The export sales will be subsidized with commodities from the inventory of the Commodity Credit Corporation. The subsidy will enable U.S. exporters to compete at commercial prices in the Polish market.

Poland already has purchased 500,000 tons of U.S. wheat under the export enhancement program.

Details of the program including an invitation for offers from exporters will be issued in the near future. For more information call William Hawkins (202) 382-9240 or Larry McElvain, (202) 447-3224.

Woodland Tour Set

The Pa. Bureau of Forestry and the Northumberland County Conservation District will sponsor a woodland tour on Tuesday, August 4 at 6:30 PM.

The tour will be held on Paul Kline's property, located about one mile north of Greenbrier in southern Northumberland County. Signs leading to the site will be posted along the Rebuck-Leck Kill road.

Leading the tour will be Mark Deibler, service forester with the Pa. Bureau of Forestry, and William Kreiger, a local consulting forester. Those attending the program will have the opportunity to see timber stand management and harvesting techniques after a gypsy moth kill on Kline's 78 acres of woodlands.

Other topics will include forest regeneration after a harvesting operation, timber values, tree identification, developing a harvesting contract, professional forestry services, and others.

York Co. 4-H Dairy Winners Named

BY JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

YORK — C.E. Hubbard III, Kim McCleary and Kelly Morris were the big prizewinners Wednesday as the annual 4-H Roundup kicked off York County's summer dairy show lineup. Nearly 70 head turned out for the dairy project roundup, held at the York Fairgrounds as the opening event of the annual York 4-H Fair.

Hubbard's junior, senior, and grand champion wins in the Holstein division added to a string of 4-H and open class awards earned during his 4-H career by the New Cumberland exhibitor.

His aged cow class entry, Kowraygan Creek Linnan Jean, easily topped all contenders for senior and grand honors, and earned praise for her correctness from type judge Steve Shaw of Oley. Linnan Jean is sired by Creek-Bluff Elevation Lester.

A junior yearling daughter of Hilltopper Elevation Warden claimed the junior champion prize for Hubbard. C. Lloyds Warden Rosalin bested other contenders for the top heifer prize with her stylishness, dairyness and size.

Lining up in the reserve senior and grand spot in the Holstein division was Bridgette Boyer with her senior two-year-old, Sunnybend KitKat Kit B B Star. The Tiho Kit Builder daughter also took honors as the best bred and owned in the Holstein division, while her three-year-old maternal sister by Ocean-View Sexation was reserve best bred and owned for the York 4-H'er.

Angie Lang claimed the reserve junior championship with Weim-Sharr-MC Valory, a senior calf by Sir C Valor.

Kim McCleary, Stewartstown, snagged a pair of breed champion rosettes, taking the top spot in both the Jersey and Brown Swiss divisions.

Her three-year-old Jersey, Y-Creek Fascinators Coco, took senior and grand champion rosettes in the Roundup's second largest breed category. In the reserve senior and grand spot was Annie Rauhauser, Dover, with her aged cow, Soldier Queen of Lilac Springs.

Junior champion honors of the Jersey division went to Tim Warner, New Park, with Top-O-Hill Silver Beacon Gem, an intermediate yearling. Annie Rauhauser also earned the reserve junior champion and best bred and owned award for her senior calf, Lilac Springs Royal Lady.

Senior and grand champion Brown Swiss winner for Kim McCleary was a four-year-old, Beaver Creek Telstar Penny. Reserve grand honors were claimed by Kelly Myers, with her junior champion intermediate calf, Welsh Ponderosa Titan Holly.

Best bred and owned Brown Swiss was the reserve junior champion, Shelly Titan Misty, a junior yearling exhibited by Shelly Shaffer, Thomasville.

Taking the junior and grand champion Guernsey spot was Kelly Morris, Fawn Grove, with Beas Bonus Tinkerbell, a senior yearling.

Reserve junior and grand, and the best bred and owned award in the Guernsey division, went to Paul Rauhauser, Dover, with a junior calf, Lilac Springs Fayette Allie.

Three 4-H'ers were named age-category champions in the fitting showmanship competition, judged by Ann Davis, Union Bridge, Maryland.

Brad Walker topped the 8 to 11-year age group, with Dixie Doll in second, and Greg Walker, third. In the 12 to 14-year intermediate division, Jenelle Boyer was first, Kelly Morris, second, and Annie Rauhauser, third. C. E. Hubbard III earned 15 to 19-senior division honors, over Bridgette Boyer in second, and Angie Lang, third.

Field Day Set For July 31

HALIFAX — The Dauphin County Ag Management Day will be held Friday, July 31 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Paul Clugston Farm, one mile north of Halifax along Route 225.

Local Farmers Play Host At City Zoo

SOUTHAMPTON, Pa. — John and Gail Frederick, dairy farmers from New Hope, took their milking skills to Philadelphia.

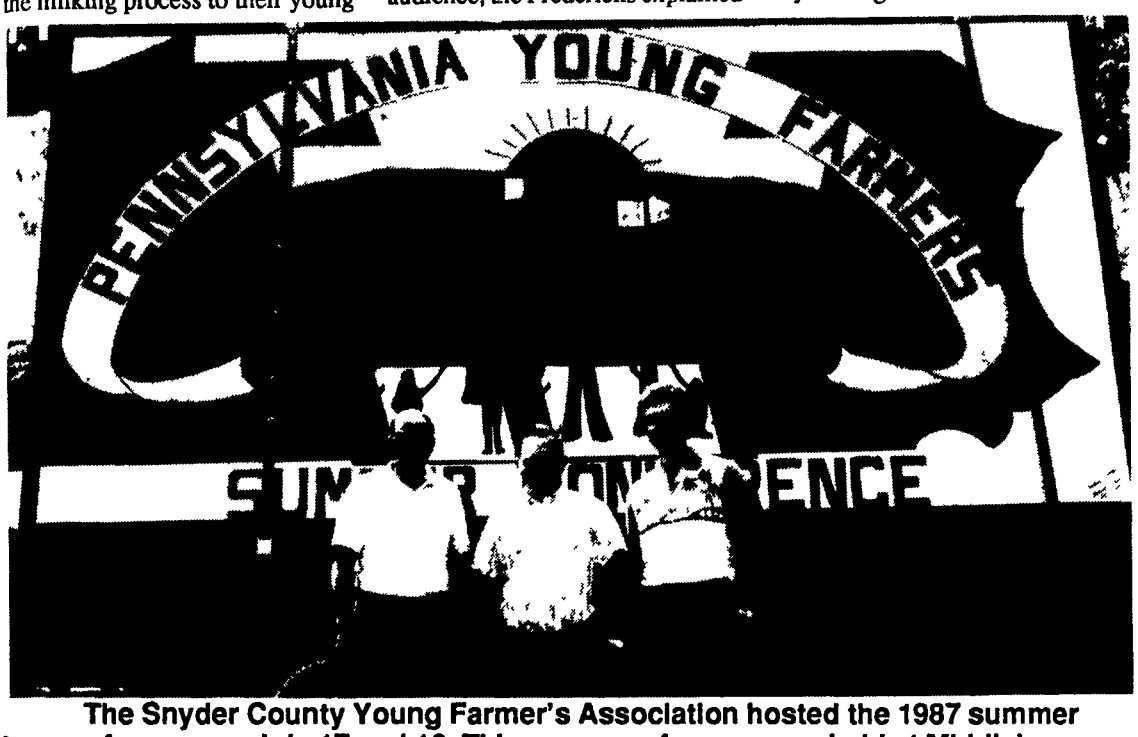
The Fredericks put on a special demonstration for visitors to the Children's Zoo. They explained the milking process to their young audience, as "Moochelle," one of the zoo's two cows, was milked by machine.

They also answered questions about dairying and life on the farm and distributed farm literature. In sharing information with their audience, the Fredericks explained how a cow converts feed, water and time to produce wholesome, nutritious milk.

The Fredericks are among a dozen farm families who will participate in this special program, which is held at noon every Sunday during the summer.

These farmers are members of Atlantic Dairy Cooperative and participate in the Young Cooperators program, which is designed to teach young farmers about cooperative business and the dairy industry.

Atlantic Dairy Cooperative represents 4,100 dairy farm families in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.



The Snyder County Young Farmer's Association hosted the 1987 summer conference on July 17 and 18. This years conference was held at Middleburg High School. Tours, displays, meetings, banquets, entertainment, and recreational activities were all part of the 2 day itinerary.

learned about agricultural cooperatives and their contributions to the farm ecnomy.

Those attending were: Jason Weiler, Rory Buckwalter, David Metzler, Scott Barnett, Jeffrey Craig.

The Institute is sponsored by the College of Agriculture, Penn State University; The Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives; and numerous local cooperative councils.

Nearly 180 scholars and adult advisors from four states attended this years institute.

"My feed savings with Harvestore high moisture corn was well over $7,000 last year and that was with an increase in cows."

"High moisture corn is more palatable. I can get more corn into my cows and I can get it into them quick. Since feeding Harvestore high moisture corn, my butterfat has gone up 50 lbs. and the milk has increased by 1,500 lbs. per cow!"

SHELDON PEACHEY
BELLEVILLE, PA

"What we like best about feeding high moisture shelled corn out of our Harvestore System is the savings on feed."

"On Harvestore high moisture shelled corn, our cows seem to be peaking in the third month and holding. On our old program, our cows would peak, but wouldn't hold on like they do now."

COULD YOU BENEFIT FROM A HARVESTORE® SYSTEM WITH PENN JERSEY QUALITY BUILT IN?

"I wouldn't do without Harvestore high moisture corn on our farm It's really convenient. We can be done harvesting in one day and you have fresh feed every time you feed it."

"This year with high moisture corn from our Harvestore Structure, our top cow produced 24,000 lbs milk and 1,100 lbs butterfat!"

GLEN & CALVIN BYLER
BELLEVILLE, PA

"I should have built my first Harvestore Structure years before I did! Purchasing a Harvestore Structure was one of the best investments I ever made."

"I'm well-satisfied with the pre-owned Harvestore Structure that Penn Jersey built for us. Their building crew really knows how to work!"

We Keep Production Lines Going.

Besides hard work, it takes management skill and good instincts to run a farm. The right amount of sunshine and rain doesn't hurt, either.

Yet, by and large, a farm runs on money. And between harvests, money has a way of running short.

Farm Credit helps farmers meet operating expenses with production loans. For everything from seed, fertilizer and chemicals to labor costs and tractor tires. Production loans can also stock the fish pond and feed the feeder pigs.

And because livestock and crops don't grow to suit a payment schedule, we adjust yours according to your cash flow.

Unlike some other lenders, Farm Credit is owned and controlled by the farmers who use its services. Which means we're always here for farmers. Not just when it suits our profit needs.

So if you're in line for a production loan, the most productive thing you could do is call us.

Home Economists Make Time For Families With Free-Lance Career

BY CAROLYN GILLES
Crawford Co. Correspondent

ERIE — Many women agonize over the choice of career or family. But to Lynn Clint and Rhonda Schember of Erie, the choice wasn't as mutually exclusive as they originally thought it would be.

Both Lynn and Rhonda started out as home economists in the Cooperative Extension Service, but in different states — Rhonda in Pennsylvania and Lynn in Ohio. When she married, Lynn relocated to Pennsylvania and shared an office with Rhonda in the Erie County Extension building. That was the beginning of this "dynamic duo."

The two worked well together from the start and they talked about the things they would like to do someday. But little did they realize what the future had in store for them. They never dreamed they'd be in business together.

But they didn't actually get the ball rolling themselves. Lynn and Rhonda resigned from their jobs at the extension office, thinking only of spending more time at home raising their expanding families.

After the two left extension work, the local paper contacted Rhonda about writing a column and she, in turn, asked Lynn to co-write it with her. Lynn knew she would need some part-time work to supplement their income, but she never dreamed it would be working for the paper.

After the opportunity for the newspaper column, a local college approached them about teaching classes, and other extension offices also offered teaching opportunities. Now they are busier than they ever imagined they would be.

Lynn said getting ready for a class these days is wild. "You have one (child) beating up on the other one in the room, and another one hanging on your leg, and a third one getting over into your stuft that you just packed and unpacking it."

The kids are the "limiting factor" on their activities now. Just to get together to have their photos taken for a newspaper article "means six kids under the age of three in another room while the photographer's trying to shoot someting."

But Lynn and Rhonda feel comfortable with the careers they have right now. They "bump into things" rather than pursue them. Nonetheless, they end up busier without pursuing. They couldn't handle much more right now.

Probably the biggest project the two have tackled so far is a show for homemakers sponsored by their newspaper. They gave microwave instructions on stage before 2,000 people.

They think that, for the next few years, they can keep as busy as they want by just being open to those things they "bump into." Beyond that, the potential avenues for more income would take more work and more time. These two feel comfortable just knowing the potential is on the back burner. They're just not ready to move it forward yet. Said Rhonda, "It just isn't important to have to do it right now."

Lynn added: "I guess I've gotten selfish. I really hate to give up more than one or two days a week to work. I enjoy having that extra time to be with the kids."

Responsibility for three weekly newspaper columns means that Lynn and Rhonda don't get vacations anymore, not even when they're in the hospital having babies. Lynn said, "It gets comic, you know...Rhonda comes in with her big tote bags and stuff and we did a couple columns while I was in there. And, after she had the twins, I was in there totin' in stuff for her and she was writing a column in bed."

What do they dream of? Rhonda's goals would be to get a little bit of a vacation and spend some time on sewing and art, the things she had to put aside. But one of the advantages of being a home economist is that you can branch out in so many different directions. They would travel over a wider geographical radius to work, "But," Lynn said, "right now we don't want to do that because that would defeat the reason for us quitting our jobs...There are a lot of things that we've thought of from time to time, that we could do and ways we could publicize ourselves. But we've opted not to do that because we want to be at home here with the family until the kids get older."

Having families affects their work style. They have spouses and children to consider and this largely controls what they choose to pursue. Lynn said, "Right now, we're not career minded, we're family minded and..we're not willing to let go of our careers totally, so we're just kind of hanging on by a string."

They worked at their careers for 14 or 15 years and have only had a few years to leave the fast pace behind and take more time for family and parenting.

They believe their situation is somewhat unique. "Some women are just starting out and they need a career for fulfillment. Well, we've already had that. We're more or less working backwards. We've

(Turn to Page B4)

Lynn Clint, left, and Rhonda Schember have joined their talents to form a free-lance home economists business. Their free-lance schedule permits them to spend more time with their families than a full-time job would.

Lynn looks through files strategically located in a closet — away from curious toddlers.

Joe, Jodi and Jaime "help" Rhonda with an equipment inventory.

Family life is a top priority for both Lynn and Rhonda. Here they spend time entertaining their kids on the swing set. From left are Jodi Schember, Rhonda Schember with her son, Joe, Jaime Schember, Kathy Clint, Jimmy Clint, Lynn Clint and Mary Clint.

had that career and enjoyed it immensely...and now it's kind of fun to be on the other end...just dabbling at a career at our own whim and fancies."

Rhonda enjoys the reaction they get from people who come to their classes knowing that someone who has a lot of kids is going to talk about food. Students are often surprised at the professionalism with which Lynn and Rhonda conduct themselves. And that's important to them. They may have left their formal careers behind, but they have a lot of background and experiences from which to draw.

Lynn and Rhonda prefer the team-teaching approach to their classes, although they do work alone at times. But they think they can give a more interesting program if they teach together.

For their newspaper columns, Rhonda is the writer and Lynn is the researcher. Lynn has more experience with food and recipes. They each enjoy getting the "cream of what they like to do."

"I can dump on her all the candies and the flaming desserts and all the things that could possibly go wrong and then I stick with the old standbys. We joke about that in our classes," Lynn said.

The pair injects humor into their classes while still maintaining professionalism. They obviously have fun during the classes and so do their students. In a class, Rhonda is the straightforward, smooth flowing presenter. Lynn describes her presentation style "as more of a down-homesy, babbling...Julia Child type person."

They complement each other and play off each other. Nobody goes to sleep in their classes. Students don't want to miss what might happen next.

What will happen next for Rhonda and Lynn is anybody's guess. Neither sees free-lancing as something they are just doing in the interim until the children are raised. They both like the freedom and personal rewards of free-lancing.

Said Lynn, "It's worth taking a few risks. If you don't take a risk, many times you're not going to get ahead or achieve things in life that you really want and I'm glad that both Rhonda and I were willing to take that risk because it has worked out beautifully for us — even though it's frightening. Even after you've gone through with the initial step, you think, 'Oh, my gosh, why did I do it? and how're we gonna survive without the income?' But it's amazing how well things work out when you just put your mind to it. You have to set that fear aside and just go ahead and take that step and it's well worth it in the end."

Franklin Co. 4-H Shepherds

The Franklin County 4-H Shepherds met recently at the home of Beth Keener for a family picnic.

After the potluck meal, club members participated in the hay judging contest conducted by John Shearer, Franklin County extension agent. The hay was judged by its maturity, leafiness, weed content, color and fragrance. Delmar Lehman had a perfect score.

Upcoming events are the Farm Tour on July 29, Lamb and Wool Queen Contest, Aug. 1, and the Franklin Co. Fair on Aug. 18.

The next meeting will be held at Bixel's on Aug. 25 at 7 p.m. Showmanship skills will be demonstrated at the meeting.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Exists there a machine, anywhere, without a streak of malice toward females?

Odds are that such a thing might be found somewhere. But I've yet to cross its path. Or is it just my own technological ignorance that sends signals to mechanical marvels to go berserk at a mere touch?

This summer, it's the lawn mower.

Heavy-duty, riding-mowers have been standard equipment for the backyard expanse here on the farm almost since the time we moved in. We've put a lot of miles on, those riders and I, keeping up with the national obsession for cropped, green lawn.

Actually, it's generally more of a continuing battle against invasion by lambsquarters, pigweed and the toughest crabgrass east of the Ohio state line. Most of the lawn lays low and naturally damp, growing thick, quick and green, even while other lawns nearby cringe beneath brittle brown blades.

So, our lawn mowers earn their keep. But they never miss a chance to protest to the one who most frequently steers them into briar-and-bramble battle.

Blessed is the mower which turns over the first time as I shove the gas feed to the max and choke down to the precise spot at which the clattering motor runs the most evenly.

We roar across the side lawn, leaving a neatly clipped swath behind us, and push ahead the variable speed thingamajig.

All is well — for at least 20 feet. Then the mower slowly glides to a halt, motor still throbbing and blades biting viciously at grass already lopped to a life-threatening low.

In defiance to the sudden temper tantrum of third gear, I switch down to second. No second. No first, either. And the clutch whatchamacallit clutches only with great reluctance.

But — rejoice! — we still run in reverse.

Still, the prospect of mowing, in reverse, a quarter-acre of angled, chopped-up, tree-, walk-, and building-interrupted lawn has about as much appeal as playing in a hornet's nest.

Fortunately the farmer is nearby moving hay into the barn. To my lament, he murmurs something about a clutch belt, sprawls in the grass to adjust some doohickey in the mower's belly, and the clutch clutches once more.

But the blades only slice farther down into the lawn's roots and no gear takes hold. Yanking the variable thingamajig, he whips it back and forth, until at the "race" speed, it grabs hold. We charge into gear with only a hint of whiplash.

At least mowing in "race" is better than mowing in reverse.

Three race circles around the lawn later, a faint but familiar sputtering emanates from somewhere under the fiberglass hood. Experience says this has nothing to do with the thingamajig, the whatchamacallit or the doohickey.

A mowing or two previous, I corralled the 6-foot family baby to rescue me from mower desertion, after the sputter began to smoke. He jiggled a few wires, furrowed his brow over the battery and actually considered my hesitant query about whether it needed water or if the cables might be loose.

Then it ran fine. After a male had practiced some sort of mechanical witchcraft over the cursed motorized mower.

This time, the farmer himself invoked a few of the same incantations, stuck a needle-nosed oil can into a few strategic spots, shrugged his shoulders and mowed a couple of rounds with a mower running like a dream. Still at "race" speed.

By finishing in second gear "race," I managed to finish just ahead of the mower curse, and only a faint and occasional threatening sputter.

There are a good three months of mowing left in the season. This particular mechanized motor and I must find some sort of understanding or we will revert to a lawn of wildflowers and thistle.

Either that, or some day I may be sorely tempted to practice a new version of mower witchcraft — with a piece of two-by-four.

The satisfaction that comes from doing a good job of farming

Liming is one of the most important factors in keeping your soil in the highest productive range A good pasture with a pH of 6 5 or higher for example will make 300 to 400 lbs of beef per acre and produce up to $100 gross income per acre This means with the help of lime profits from pastures can compare favorably with feed or grain crops

Featured Recipe

This week's featured recipe comes from Lynn Clint and Rhonda Schember of Erie. These two women, former extension agents in Erie County, have combined their talents in a free-lance enterprise.

Together, these two home economists write a newspaper column and teach a few classes. Their free-lance schedule allows them to spend more time with their growing families, a benefit that prompted them to quit their full-time jobs with the Extension Service. To learn more about them, turn to page B2.

Chocolate Cherry Cake

1 18¼ -ounce box prepared Devil's Food cake mix (with pudding in the mix)
3 eggs
1 21-ounce can cherry pie filling
1 teaspoon almond extract

Glaze:

½ cup milk-chocolate chips
1 tablespoon butter, softened
1 to 2 tablespoons milk
½ cup powdered sugar

Grease and sugar coat a 12-to 14-cup fluted microwave cake pan. In large bowl, blend first four ingredients until moistened. Beat 2 minutes at highest speed of electric mixer. Pour into pan. Microwave on high 12 to 13 minutes, rotating pan every 5 minutes during cooking time.

Cool upright in pan for 10 minutes; turn out onto serving plate. Cool completely.

In a 2-cup glass measure, microwave first 3 glaze ingredients for 2 minutes or until chips melt. Add additional milk if necessary for glaze consistency. Spoon over cooled cake. Garnish with maraschino cherries around top.

QUESTION - V. Martin of Springfield, Va. would like recipes to prepare chicken that tastes like Weaver's Batter Fried Chicken and Weaver's Fried Chicken (made with bread crumbs).

ANSWER - Gail Hunter of Smithsburg, Md., requested a recipe for bee sting cake. Thanks go to Mary Banker, Pottstown, and to Audrey Nemeth, Mt. Vernon, Maine, for sharing the following recipes.

Bienenstich
(Bee Sting Cake)

Custard:
3 large eggs, separated
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
2½ tablespoons sugar
1 cup light cream, scalded
½ teaspoon vanilla
½. teaspoon almond extract
Pinch of cream of tartar

In a bowl combine egg yolks, lightly beaten, flour and sugar. Add cream in a stream, stirring, and transfer the custard to a heavy saucepan. Cook the custard over moderately low heat, stirring until it boils and transfer to a large bowl. Let custard cool and stir in vanilla and almond extract. In another bowl beat egg whites with cream of tartar until they hold soft peaks; fold them into custard gently but thoroughly. Chill, covered with a buttered round of wax paper, for 1½ hours.

Cake:
1¾ cups all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
2 large eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup unsalted butter, softened
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
⅓ cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. In a large bowl, cream butter and sugar until mixture is light and fluffy; beat in 2 eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla and almond extract. Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Combine batter well and pour into a well buttered and floured 9-inch springform pan.

Topping
¾ cup slivered blanched almonds
⅓ cup sugar
¼ cup unsalted butter
1 tablespoon milk

In small saucepan, heat almonds with sugar, butter and milk until butter melts. Spoon over cake batter and bake at 375°F. for 25 to 30 minutes or until golden. Cool 30 minutes, remove sides of pan, let cool completely.

To assemble: Halve cake horizontally; arrange bottom layer cut side up on a serving plate and spread with custard. Top with their remaining layer cut side down and chill.

Bienenstich
½ pound farmer's cheese
½ cup milk
½ cup cooking oil
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
3½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Topping:
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup slivered blanched almonds

Press farmer's cheese through a sieve. Add milk, oil, sugar and salt. Blend well. Sift flour with baking powder and beat into the cheese mixture. Roll dough on a lightly floured board to ¼ inch thickness and spread on greased jelly roll pan (15x10x1-inch).

Melt butter and stir in remaining ingredients. Cook until mixture starts to bubble. Cool. Spread mixture over the dough. Bake at 350°F. for about 20 mintues or until cake is golden brown. Cut into squares or bars.

ANSWER - Mrs. Jerry Roeder of Zionsville asked for advice in separating phyllo sheets. Thanks go to Mary Banker, Pottstown, and Edward D. Parent, Hamburg, for the following advice.

Mary Banker writes: "Phyllo should never be allowed to dry out. It should be covered with wax paper and a damp cloth until you are ready to butter it. If using frozen phyllo, always defrost by placing it in the refrigerator overnight; do not allow to defrost at room temperature. Before purchasing, check the edges of the phyllo sheets — torn or crumbled edges are a sign of improper handling or storage and they are impossible to separate without tearing."

Edward Parent adds to her suggestions: Protect the sheets from drying out while other ingredients are being added to the "project." "I have found that a lightly moistened paper towel alone or a piece of waxed paper held down by a moistened cloth towel do an excellent job.

"And finally, the next trick I use is to fold the sheets in half. This gives the sheets a bit more body and with the material being half the size, a measure of ease in handling. I have a 9x13-inch pan that I use for making Baklava, and the folded sheets fit in very nicely with a little room to spare all around." He suggests thawing in the refrigerator for at least 24 hours. The following recipe is one way he enjoys

Five To Compete For Lancaster Poultry Queen Title

LANCASTER — Five young women will compete for the Lancaster Poultry Queen title at the annual contest, scheduled for Aug. 7 at the Farm and Home Center beginning at 6:15 p.m.

The winner will be crowned by reigning poultry queen Elizabeth Simmons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons. The Poultry Queen represents Lancaster County's poultry industry, promotes poultry products and educates the public about the industry during her reign.

Contestants this year are:

•Debra High, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl High, R2 Bender Mill Road, Lancaster. The 1986 Penn Manor High School graduate lives on a layer farm.

•Lonna Rohrer, the daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rohrer, 690 Strasburg Road. A senior at Pequea Valley High School, she plans to attend college following graduation. She lives on a layer farm.

•Theresa Martin, the daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Martin, 1346 W. Main Street, Ephrata. She is a junior a Messiah College majoring in elementary education and is employed at Sauders Poultry for the summer.

•Doreen Brubaker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brubaker, 634 Lincoln Road, Lititz. A high school senior, Doreen plans to attend college following graduation.

•Julia Zimmerman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grace Zimmerman and the late Eugene Zimmerman, R2 Box 210, Reinholds. She is a senior at Garden Spot High School and plans a career in nursing following graduation. She helps on a broiler farm.

The new princess will receive either a $500 educational scholarship or $300 in cash, and the runner up will receive a $200 scholarship or $100 cash. All contestants receive a watch.

Earth-Eating Is Common Among People In Many Parts Of World

WASHINGTON — Some people eat earth — and not just in times of famine or because they're crazy. In some societies, it's normal human behavior.

"We think how horrible, how revolting, but there's no stigma. It's a nearly universal cross-cultural phenomenon, an accepted fact of life," says geographer John M. Hunter of Michigan State University, who has studied earth-eating, known as geophagy, over the past 20 years, primarily in Africa and Central America.

What earth-eaters consume mostly are fine white clays such as kaolin — not gritty, organic dirt. The clays are often shaped like eggs, disks, or wafer-thin tablets, baked in the sun or smoked over a fire, and sold in outdoor markets.

Why people eat earth is rooted in religious beliefs, cultural traditions, medicinal practices, and physiological needs.

Clay may be eaten to reduce hookworm-caused abdominal pain, ease hunger pangs, soothe heartburn and nausea, control diarrhea, or simply satisfy a craving. To discerning palates, some soil has a pleasingly sour, lemony taste.

But the most common manifestation of geophagy, Hunter says, is during pregnancy, so much so that he calls clays used for eating "pregnancy clays."

In India, for example, elaborate, baked clay figurines are given as bridal gifts, to be broken and eaten during pregnancy.

In Africa, Hunter says, if a pregnant woman is "undernourished, exhausted from many pregnancies in a few years, has no doctor to see or pharmacy to go to, and no money for nutritional supplements, she resorts to intuitive, pragmatic folk medicine."

Under these circumstances, he explains, "clays can definitely supply minerals to the fetus. They compare favorably with Western pharmaceutical supplements."

Hunter's judgment is based on laboratory tests at Michigan State that analyzed clay samples and simulated human digestion to determine what the body receives from clay. His work is supported in part by the National Geographic Society.

Depending on where clays originate, they can contain minerals such as iron, calcium, magnesium, potassium, phosphorous, zinc, copper, and manganese.

Geophagy is a harmless practice unless carried to excess, Hunter says. Heavy, habitual clay-eating can impede the body's absorption of minerals and block the colon.

But culturally rooted geophagy, he says, should not be confused with a psychiatric disorder, commonly called pica, that is manifested by chronic, compulsive eating of nonfoods such as gravel, chalk, paint chips, or dirt.

Geophagy — which can be traced back to ancient Greek and Roman times, when embossed red-clay medallions were widely used as medicine — is still practiced in Africa, Asia, the Middle East, Central America, and the United States.

Hunter believes that Africans probably started eating clay to satisfy hunger pangs. A person would reach out for the nearest bit of clay, breaking off a piece of the fireplace, for example. "That smoked clay would be crispy and crunchy to eat," he says.

As the practice evolved, a favorite family clay pit would be found, and then one preferred by a group of families or a village. Eventually a peasant industry emerged, with clays sold in markets, sometimes hundreds of miles away.

Clays for trade are usually washed, mixed with water, kneaded, shaped, often decorated, and dried in the sun. Some are left in lump form. They all sell for pennies.

African slaves brought geophagy to the southern United States. It is still practiced by some blacks, mostly during pregnancy, in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas.

Even when some black women move to Northern cities, they are sent clays from the family clay mound, Hunter says. But others look down on the clay-eating habits of their mothers and grandmothers and consume less-nutritious laundry starch instead.

In Central America, clay-eating is associated with the worship of the Black Christ at Esquipulas in eastern Guatemala. Once a sacred Indian site known for its healing muds and hot springs, it became a Christian shrine after the Spanish Conquest. A 5-foot-high image of Christ on the cross, carved in 1595, became known as the Black Christ because its brown woods resembled the copper-colored skin of the Indians.

More than a million people a year, most from Central America, now visit the shrine, says geographer Robert N. Thomas of Michigan State. Small, glistening white clay tablets — embossed with the image of Christ and known as "pan del Senor" (bread of the Lord) — are sold to the pilgrims. The bis-

Farm Women Societies

Lancaster Society 8

Members of Lancaster Society 8 met July 8 at the Donegal Presbyterian Church to entertain Society 6 at a covered dish meal. Thirty-six women attended, including county officers: Mrs. Charles Shellenberger, president; Mrs. Evelyn Hess, secretary, and Mrs. Vera Herr, treasurer.

Grace Bixler, Society 8 president, conducted the meeting and Molly Baer provided devotions. The group also sang three songs.

Anna Mae Derr read the minutes of the June meeting and guests were introduced in response to roll call.

Mary Sarver gave the guests a tour of the historical church.

Hostesses were Grace Bixler, Molly Baer, Evelyn Dannemann, Ruth Eby, Mary Grace Martin, Kathryn Hess and Ruth Musser.

The County picnic will be held Aug. 4 at the Hoffman Building in Quarryville.

Berks Group 1

Members of Berks Group 1 met July 8 at the home of Mrs. Ella Richards, R2 Oley, for their annual doggie roast. Members' families also attended.

President Mrs. Agnes Noll conducted the business meeting with 18 members answering roll call and responding to the question "What do you plan on doing on your summer vacation?"

The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Pauline Hartman, R1 Oley, on Aug. 12. The program will be a craft night and members will make Christmas tree ornaments.

Berks Group 4

It was come-as-you-are to the July 7 meeting of Berks Group 4. Members attended in shorts, housedresses and office dresses, sneakers, sandals and high heels — just as they were dressed when called.

Twelve members and one guest attended the meeting, held in the home of Elsie Rothenberger, Boyertown R.

The highlight and fun part of the evening was a secret pound auction with Virginia Taylor acting as auctioneer.

President Ferne Kulp presided over the meeting. Mary Fizz introduced her guest, Priscilla Wren, as a prospective member.

The group received thank you cards from Paula Sellers and Kim Benjamin for their awards; they also received a letter from Berks Heim concerning the plaque that has been placed outside room 127 in honor of the group for redecorating the room.

Ferne Kulp explained the state project "Toys for Tots." Members will be making toys of safe materials and donating them to a home or hospital. Berks County selected the Hamburg State School to receive toys made by Berks County members.

The group will chance home-cured hams and fruit baskets, with the drawing on Farm Women's Day, Oct. 14.

The next meeting will be a family picnic beginning at 6:30 Aug. 4 in the Boyertown R4 home of Ferne Kulp. Members are encouraged to bring family and friends for an evening of food and games.

Lebanon Society 20

Members of Lebanon Society 20 met recently at Levitz Park for a family picnic. Eighteen members and their families attended.

Games were provided for the children. The president conducted a short business meeting after the picnic.

Members were reminded of the group's bus trip to Philadelphia Sept. 24. The trip cost is $12. The bus will leave Fisher Bus Co. at 7:30 p.m.

Members discussed the Fall Bazaar, which will be held in September at the Plaza Mall.

The August meeting, craft night, will be held at the home of Charlene Zugler. The group will also be making favors for the October meeting, when they will entertain Society 1 at the Ono Fire Company.

F.W.S. Calendar

Saturday, July 25
Lancaster Society 12 meets at 1 p.m. Mary Jane Groff is hostess.

Thursday, July 30
Lancaster Society 11 meets at 1:30 p.m. for a program by the dairy princess.

Saturday, August 1
Lancaster Society 10 meets at Hoffman Community Building, noon.

Earth Eating

cuits are usually eaten during pregnancy.

These tablets, each weighing little more than an ounce, are made by local people from clay from a holy hill. "You have to dig down for it several feet, below the topsoil and subsoil, where the clay is hard, compact, and clean," Hunter says.

From Esquipulas, worship of the Black Christ has spread throughout much of Central America — and with it, clay-eating. Geographer Oscar H. Horst of Western Michigan University, who is tracing the diffusion of Black Christ shrines, has reports of at least 170 others, most in Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, and Mexico. Clays from Esquipulas or from local clay pits are sold at a number of these shrines.

Hunter, who has sampled some clay, hasn't acquired a taste for it. "Dry in my mouth . . . bland," he reports. He had to wash it down with water.

Joan Specter, Farm Women Meet To Discuss Marketing, Promotion

UNIVERSITY PARK — Marketing and promoting Pennsylvania agricultural products was the subject of a July 3 meeting with Joan Specter and several farm women from central Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Specter is a member of the City Council of Philadelphia and a board member of Food and Energy Systems Inc., a nonprofit organization associated with Penn State's urban gardening program. She was on the Penn State University Park Campus with her husband, Senator Arlen Specter, who held an open house to discuss issues facing the 100th Congress and to visit the site of the proposed Ag Science and Industry Center.

"We need to get the products that your farms produce into the city," Mrs. Specter told the group. "We have to be more aggressive marketers, or else we're going to raise a generation that doesn't know what fresh fruit tastes like."

Among participants in the discussion was Lina Hood, wife of College of Agriculture Dean Lamartine F. Hood. "After traveling around the state and talking with farm families, I think more than ever that we have to get together to push our own products," she said. "We really need to advertise."

"We also have to work on changing our image," said Connie Garman, an assistant manager of a dairy farm. "Let's be good managers and present ourselves that way, and let's find ways to promote what we produce."

Jan Pruss, another meeting participant, operates a field corn operation in the Spruce Creek Valley with her husband and works part time as a computer specialist for Penn State's Agricultural Information Services. "I thought the meeting was informative," she said. "Mrs. Specter is obviously interested in agriculture. I have a feeling she was surprised at our optimism — we were all upbeat, and we gave the impression that the future of agriculture isn't as gloomy here as it may be in other areas of the country."

Jack MacMillan, associate dean for college relations, said that "when we learned that Joan Specter would be on campus and wanted to meet some local farm women, we assembled a diversified group. We wanted to break the 'farm wife' stereotype to show her that farm women today are full partners, running computers as well as machinery. These are positive people, and they reflect modern-day agriculture."

Vo-Ag Teachers Collect Awards At Annual Meeting

BY MARY MAXWELL
Centre Co. Correspondent

STATE COLLEGE — Outstanding members of the Pennsylvania Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association received awards or certificates of service at the association's annual meeting here last week.

Paul Heasley, Danville Area High School, received the Outstanding Young Member Award as a noteworthy teacher with five years or less experience.

Jim Kerr, Willow Street AVIS, received the Outstanding Teacher Award, and Dr. Arba Henry, Solanco High School, was honored for an outstanding Vo-Ag program. Fred Stillwagen, NVATA Region VI vice president, presented the awards. These winners will be entered in a 13-state regional competition.

Seven teachers received watches and 25-year service awards. Those recognized were Charles Ackley, Jr., Ephrata Area High School, Richard Barkley, Bedford Area High School, Virgil Gutshall, Newport High School, Gary Oiler, Bangor Jr. High School, David Seamans, State College Area High School, Dr. William Shaeffer, West Snyder High School, and Gerald Strickler, Eastern Lebanon Co. High School.

The 25-year service awards were sponsored by Seald-Sweet Citrus Growers, purveyors of fruit sold by many FFA clubs. Sam Wagner, West Perry High School, received the outstanding sales achievement award from Seald-Sweet.

Larry Redding, left, Pa. Vocational-Agricultural Teachers Association president, presents an Honorary Life Membership to Paul Benchoff, retiring vo-ag teacher at Waynesboro Area High School.

Clair Witwer, PVATA Region J vice president, and Jim Kerr, past PVATA president, presented Henry Givler, recently retired Eastern regional vocational consultant, with a certificate for outstanding service.

PVATA Honorary Life Membership was given to Paul Benchoff, Waynesboro Area High School, who retired after 39 years.

Thirty Minute Club awards were given to teachers who published short articles in professional

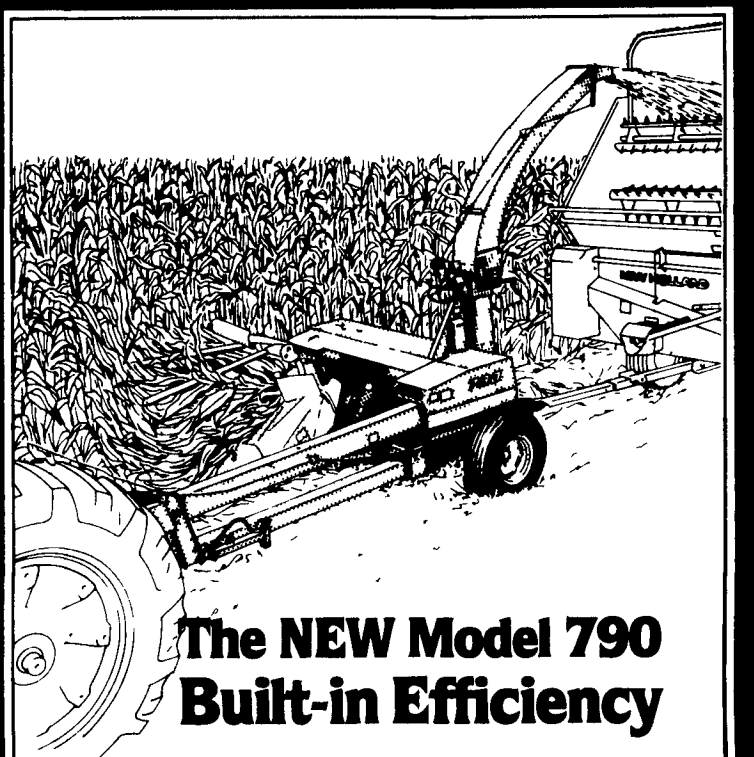
FORD NEW HOLLAND ANNOUNCES... FREE FINANCE * ON ALL NEW HAY AND FORAGE EQUIP., SPREADERS AND GRINDER-MIXERS TO MARCH 1, 1988

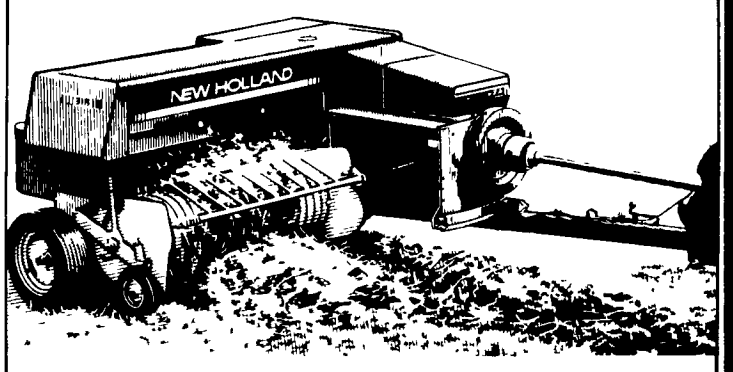
Big performance at a price you can afford

The Model 353 grinder-mixer is just the ticket for small- to medium-horsepower tractors! The "353" gives you a 16-inch hammermill with 26 reversible hammers and an 80-bushel tank. With extensions, the unloading auger reaches twenty feet to get to hard to reach places. And, the new optional electronic scale provides accurate weighing for increased productivity and profitability. Check out the Model 353—New Holland quality at a price you can afford.



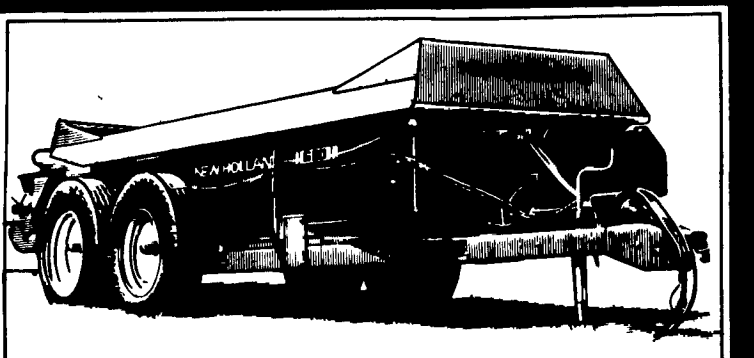
The NEW Model 790 Built-in Efficiency

With the new Model 790 forage harvester from New Holland, you get efficiency that's built in, not added on. Standard features include: Flip-up feedroll, easy-adjust shearbar, electric clutch, hydraulic lift cylinder and two-speed blower. You also get a massive 12-knife cutterhead with hardened alloy knives with tungsten surfaces. And the knives are set at a steeper angle for smoother feeding and efficient chopping. Choose a 540 RPM or 1,000 RPM driveline. Stop in soon and see how the "790" can make your harvest faster and more efficient.



Reliability... bale after bale after bale

For dense uniform bales take a look at the Model 316 baler. It's a rugged baler packed with features for high capacity baling. From the wide Super Sweep pickup to the most consistent knotter, it's got it all. Stop by and see one today.



Up to 6½ tons per trip

Spread more manure and spread it fast with the Model 680 box spreader from New Holland. Unload up to 6½ tons per trip! The optional hydraulic apron drive gives you infinite control of unloading speed. And optional slurry side extensions let you handle semi-solid manure too. Bonded-Protection guarantees the spreader sides for the life of the spreader. You'll appreciate the old-fashioned reliability of the "680." Stop in and see one today.

journals with circulation outside the state. Dr. David Hall, Dr. Dennis Scanlon, Dr. Sam Curtis, Dr. James Diamond, Dr. Ed Yoder, Dr. William Williams, Maryann Dobbs and Joy Cantrell, all from Penn State, and Robert Leib, Cumberland Valley High School, received the honors.

In the Association's Ideas Unlimited contest, Carl Evertt, Central Columbia High School, won first place for his teaching methods using computers. Brian Campbell, New Oxford, received second prize for his project books evaluation method and Tracey Hoover, Big Springs High School, citrus sales forms won third place. Awards of $50, $30 and $20 were sponsored by Agway.

Teacher of Teachers award certificates were given to those vo-ag instructors who have had student teachers entering the vo-ag field. Those receiving the certificates were Charles Ackley, Jr., Carl Everett, Howard Nicklow and Roger Reichenbach.

Counties with 100 percent membership in PVATA were recognized. They are Beaver, Jefferson, Juniata and Lackawanna. Paul Heasley, vice president, Region G, received special recognition because all the counties in his area, Montour, Northumberland, Snyder, Union, and Columbia also had 100 percent membership.

The past president's plaque was presented to Larry Redding, who also recognized his high school principal, Robert M. Reed, for cooperation received during the year.

New officers elected during the annual convention are: Earl Ferry, Selinsgrove, president; Cecil Lohr, North Star, president-elect; Ronald Frederick, Twin Valley, treasurer; and Paul Heasley, Danville, treasurer-elect. LeRoy Smeltz was again named executive secretary for the organization.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Recently, I leafed through a scrapbook my great-uncle kept. His collections were quite varied and I'd like to tell you about some of them.

A large part of his estate was his collection of stamps and coins. He was an only child and had the means to purchase these items. I remember that he would show me the designs that he made with varied colored stamps. They kept him busy through 35 years of retirement.

Earlier in his life he was an avid photographer. His main interest was historical buildings and several books contain photos of old houses in Lancaster. However, there are also pictures of a nearby covered bridge, the old distillery on his farm and one of him driving a binder in a wheat field. Another shows the large, old steam engine that helped to thresh the grain.

He had a very large collection of Indian artifacts. There were hundreds of arrowheads mounted on heavy cardboard that were shared at his death.

He kept many things in his scrapbooks. There was a 1734 draft of his farm and also a later one dated 1803. The boundaries of the property were marked as "white oak tree, dogwood tree and black oak tree." It is interesting to note that the acreage was much less on the later one as some was probably sold to neighbors.

There are old reciepts for newspaper subscriptions. One year of the "Lancaster Examiner" cost two dollars in 1830. And tax receipts in the 1840's ranged from five to eight dollars for county and state tax. Another interesting receipt shows 24 barrels of "Ranch Brand" flour sent to Philadelphia from Lancaster, January 9, 1838 for which 3½ cents per barrel freight was paid.

His keepsakes certainly bring back many memories of him as I page through his scrapbooks.

THE MICRO WAY

LANI BLOOMER

Microwave Meals From Your Freezer

Whether you're a single senior citizen or part of a large family with children, there's nothing nicer than having a meal or two ready and waiting in your freezer. Use these defrosting tips to help get your food defrosted evenly.

Defrosting Prepared Foods:

1. When defrosting, use the oven's lower power levels for more even results. The "defrost" power level, usually about 30% power, is designed for even thawing.

2. If your microwave has only one power level, use an on-off-on-off system to defrost. Microwave on high for 1 minute per pound of food, then rest for the same amount of time, repeating until almost thawed.

3. When you are in a hurry, you can defrost on high power. But, you must check the food every minute to turn it over, stir or break it up, shield it, etc. If parts get too hot on high power, remove them from the oven if possible or shield them with foil.

4. To defrost thick blocks of soup, spaghetti sauce, etc. take the lid off the freezer container. Microwave food right in freezer container on high for 3 to 5 minutes, until it is thawed enough to remove from the container easily. Put in a heatproof container, and break it up with a fork if you can.

Continue to microwave on high power for 5 minutes at a time, until it is hot for serving. Every 5 minutes, break up the chunks or stir.

5. To heat a frozen dinner plate, cover with waxed paper. Microwave on high for 2 minutes, then rotate plate. Reduce the power and microwave on medium (50%) or defrost (30%) until the food is hot. Feel the bottom of the plate to tell how warm the food is getting. The time for each plate will vary with the amount of food.

Most commercially frozen entrees give you directions for heating the food on high power. If the food heats unevenly, reduce the power to medium (50%) and double the time given for high on the package.

6. Food packaged on shallow (up to 1-inch high) aluminum trays can be put in your microwave right in the metal tray. Keep the tray in the center of the oven so it doesn't arc with the walls. Do not put an aluminum tray on a metal rack. Make sure you remove foil lids on these trays!

7. To defrost half a package of food, wrap the part to stay frozen in foil, and leave the rest of the package unwrapped. Set in the center of the oven and microwave on high for 2 minutes.

Try to cut off the portion you wish to use. If the block is still too frozen, repeat. As soon as you cut off the portion to be used, rewrap the remainder and return to the freezer.

Tuck away a bag of Freezer Meatballs to use on busy days, or when you just don't feel like cooking. For a really quick meal, add them to a jar of spaghetti sauce or gravy, and serve on top of pasta!

Or, use them in the following recipe for Meatball Stew. Either way, they're quick and delicious. Be sure to freeze them loose, so you can take out just as many as you need.

Freezer Meatballs

3 pounds lean ground beef
1 onion, chopped
¾ cup dry breadcrumbs
¾ cup milk
3 eggs
1 tablespoon Worchestershire sauce
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic powder

1. Combine all ingredients and mix well. Shape into 60 meatballs about 1¼ to 1½ inches in diameter.

2. Put half of them at a time in a double ring around a pie plate or in a 12x8-inch flat dish. Cover with waxed paper. Microwave on high for 8 to 9 minutes, until no longer pink. (Rotate pan once if your oven cooks unevenly.) Remove cooked meatballs to a flat tray for freezing. Repeat with the remaining meatballs.

3. Freeze meatballs on flat tray; when frozen, package loose in freezer bags or containers. May be kept frozen up to 3 months.

4. To thaw: Microwave on high for 1½ minutes for 5 meatballs (3 minutes for 12 to 16 meatballs). Then add to sauce or gravy and heat.

Meatball Stew

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 small onion, chopped (½ cup)
1 package (10-ounce) frozen mixed vegetables (2 cups)
12 to 16 freezer meatballs
3 large potatoes, peeled and cut in ½ inch cubes
1 jar (12 to 16 ounce) pizza sauce

1. Put butter and onion in a 2-quart casserole. Microwave on high for 3 to 4 minutes, stirring once halfway through, until onion is tender. Add frozen vegetables, cover tightly with lid or plastic wrap. Microwave on high for 4 minutes, until vegetables are thawed.

2. Add remaining ingredients (you don't have to thaw meatballs first since they are already cooked). Cover tightly and microwave on high for 10 minutes. Stir.

3. Recover and microwave on medium (50,5) for 15 to 20 minutes, stirring once after 10 minutes; until vegetables are tender. Serves 3 to 4.

NOTE: The times above are for microwaves with 650-700 watts of power. For 500-600 W, add 10-15 seconds to each minute.

Freezer Space Can Be Valuable

By the time you stock up on hamburger, hot dogs, chicken, ice cream, frozen juices, and all of the other summer picnic supplies, the freezer space on top or along side your refrigerator vanishes in no time. Many refrigerator/freezers provide you with just enough space to store the necessities and nothing else. If this situation exists in your home, an additional freezer might be the answer.

Food freezers come in two types — chest and upright — and in a variety of sizes. When figuring how much storage space you'll need, consider the amount of floor space available and the size of your family. The general rule provided by the USDA is to allow six cubic feet per family member. If space is at a premium in your home, consider a compact chest freezer which can still offer the conveniences of freezer living in a minimum amount of space.

Here are some tips that can help you save time, money and work. Store items carefully... air tight packaging is the secret of success in freezing foods. Use containers and wrappings that are designed for freezing, and seal them securely to keep natural juices in, the air out. Date and label every package put into your freezer, and then use the oldest package first. Remember, that as food freezes it expands, so don't fill your containers too full. Otherwise the top may come off or, if it is glass, it may crack or break.

Even when your freezer is loaded to capacity, there is still room to tuck in a few of the little things that can build your reputation as a fabulous cook. To add flavor to your soups, stews, and gravies, make up herb bouquets (small cheese-cloth pouches filled with herbs). Pack the bouquets in bags or wrap them in foil and freeze. When needed, use the bouquets while still frozen.

Grate orange or lemon peel, a teaspoon to a small piece of foil. Fold the peelings into a packet and freeze. Store the packets in a labeled bag and they will be handy when a recipe calls for either.

Chopped nuts and dates may be frozen too. Simply wash and slit the dates to remove the pits, then pack them into containers. For best results, leave head space, then seal and freeze.

Garlic butter can be prepared ahead of time and also stored in your freezer. Make a pound of it, freeze in individual portions on a cookie sheet and store in a polyethylene bag. A plastic ice cube tray will conveniently freeze soups, eggs, sauces, liquids, etc. When frozen, remove from tray and store in a polyethylene freezer bag and use as needed.

Energy Saving Tips For Home Freezers

If you are trying to save electricity, you may want to take advantage of the following tips on freezer management which will help you in your energy savings program.

- Keep your freezer full. Take advantage of specials in frozen food. A 12 cubic foot freezer will store 36 pounds of food or 3 pounds of food for every cubic foot of storage space.
- Never overload your freezer.
- Defrost your freezer every six months or when the frost becomes one-half inch thick.
- Keep like foods together in baskets or on shelves.
- Label and date foods with masking tape.
- Rotate the frozen foods in your freezer. Store the newly purchased frozen items on the bottom shelf of the freezer — the coldest place.
- Keep a running inventory. A record of the foods in the freezer will help in menu planning and in keeping a balanced assortment on hand.
- Keep a refrigerator-freezer thermometer inside. Ideally, the freezer should maintain a temperature of zero degrees Fahrenheit.

Pinching Chrysanthemums

If your hardy garden chrysanthemums grow tall and spindly each year by the time blooms appear, you still have a little time to give them one pinch. This way they will grow shorter and bushier with an abundance of bloom by the fall.

However, advises Jeff Jabco, Delaware County Extension agricultural agent, time is getting short to do this. Generally the third to fourth week in July is the last time to do any pinching, especially if the varieties flower after the first of October. Those that bloom earlier should receive their last pinch by mid-July. Flower buds form as the days get shorter in late summer.

The above dates allow for about 4 to 5 weeks of growth before the buds set. If you desire fewer but larger blooms with longer stems, the last pinching should have been by July 4th weekend. With exhibition-types, all side shoots are removed, leaving a single terminal bud. Pinching at this time of year involves the removal of the top 1 to 3 inches of each stem to encourage additional side shoots. Next year start pinching your mums earlier. Several pinches produce even more branches on extremely floriferous plants. If you have no chrysanthemums in your garden now, buy them later this summer or fall in bud or bloom for an immediate color effect. After wintering over in the garden, they will continue to provide colorful blooms year after year and be a desired addition to any border.

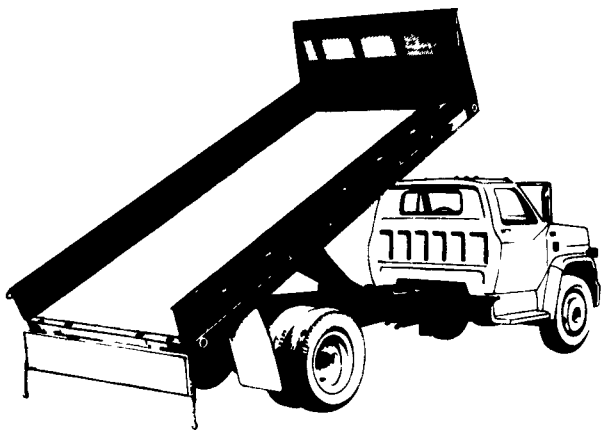
Contractor Bodies
by OMAHA STANDARD



Rugged, all-steel 14" sides and 96" wide platforms. Heavy duty steel bulkhead with full width steel mesh window. Standard three-way express tailgate or optional double-acting tailgate with forward controls. More load space and hauling flexibility than a conventional dump body. These tough, field-proven units, teamed with job-matched Omaha Standard hoists, are total working units, superior to any on the market.

Employees Purchase Badger Northland

KUAKAUNA, Wis.— Badger Northland Inc., the Kaukauna, Wisconsin-based farm machinery manufacturer, has been purchased from British Tire and Rubber (BTR Inc.), a British firm, by Badger employees and local investors.

Kaukauna Investment Inc., a group of 12 local investors and Badger officers, purchased the 42-year-old company on June 30, according to Murray A. Thorndycraft, President of Badger Northland. As part of the buyout, Badger employees will purchase stock in the company later this summer under an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP).

"We feel that this plan will provide our loyal employees with both a reward for past service as well as an incentive to continue their high standards of performance," said Thorndycraft. "Quite simply, we want to share Badger's success with all those who have made it possible."

American ownership is another important point of the buyout, according to Kenneth Myers, Badger Northland's Executive Vice President and Treasurer. "Prior to BTR, Badger was owned by yet another British firm, Gascoigne Inc., noted Myers. "We're very pleased to once again be American owned and directed, thereby placing profits in American hands rather than turning them over to a foreign corporation.

The purchase of the company was financed largely by the First Wisconsin National Bank of Sheboygan, Wisconsin, and to a lesser extent by BTR and the Wisconsin Department of Development, through a loan from the City of Kaukauna.

Badger Northland manufactures and markets a complete line of forage, feed and manure handling equipment through more than 400 dealers in the United States and Canada, as well as overseas export. Future plans include expansion of its present product line and production increases in non-agricultural markets.

Ford New Holland Names Manager

Gene Hemphill has been named Manager of North American Public Affairs for Ford New Holland, Inc., a subsidiary of Ford Motor Company.

He reports to John Ochs who recently succeeded Arnold S. Hirsh as Director of Public Affairs.

Before joining Ford New Holland, Hemphill was Director of Communications for the American Sheep Producers Council.

In that Denver-based position, he was responsible for all public affairs activities, including product publicity for American lamb and wool products.

Hemphill previously served four years as an assistant to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block, working both as a press spokesman and head speechwriter. In that position, he was responsible for the writing and production of all agricultural speeches given by members of the Reagan Administration -- including those given by the President and by Vice President George Bush.

Hemphill also has served as News Service Director for the Illinois Farm Bureau, and as an editor for the Herald-News in Joliet, Illinois.

He is a graduate of North Central College in Naperville, Illinois

Larry Groff

Larry Groff (left) chairman of the 4-H Auction Committee and Mike Firestine receiving a pedal tractor donated by Evergreen Tractor Company. This is one of the many items donated by area business to be sold July 30, 1987, 7 p.m. at the Lebanon Fairgrounds. Some other major items are: a 4-year-old bay gelding thoroughbred horse, a cadillac rental for 3 days, household and garden plants, gas grill and many other items.

Tours Of Swine Unit Offered

Two morning tours of the remodeled swine research unit at the University of Delaware Research and Education Center near Georgetown will be included in Farm and Home Field Day, Aug. 12.

Field day begins at 8:30 a.m. and concludes at noon. It includes programs of interest to poultry and pork producers, grain and vegetable growers and to consumers and gardeners.

According to Dr. Kevin Cera, University of Delaware extension swine specialist, interested individuals will be able to sign up for the tours when visiting the poster exhibit on swine growth characteristics.

The swine unit was recently revamped with a $40,000 appropriation by the Delaware General Assembly. It includes a completely rebuilt breeding-gestation building and a renovated farrowing-nursery building that can accomodate 20 sows and their litters.

New Farm Deduction Rules Don't Permit Delays

BY LARRY C. JENKINS
Extension Economist

Farm managers who are in the habit of "delaying until tomorrow" decisions about financial matters may find themselves in a corner next March 1. That is the deadline for making a decision about capitalizing or deducting a family of expenses that the new federal tax code refers to as "preproductive costs." Unfortunately, for those individuals who tend to be procrastinators, the law provides an automatic decision for the taxpayer who fails to take action. In this respect, the new federal income tax code is very much like the rules as to estate transfer; that is, those who fail to provide a Will to guide transfer of their assets are provided one by the State.

Preproductive costs are the expenses related to support of an enterprise before that enterprise begins to produce income. Farm examples of preproductive costs are the costs of developing replacement dairy animals or the cost of growing a young orchard. Prior law permitted deducting these costs on an annual basis; that option is still open but it involves penalties to the taxpayer.

The other choice, and the one apparently preferred by drafters of the new tax law, is to capitalize the preproductive costs, rather than to deduct them each year. If costs are capitalized, they are set aside into a capital account and may then be recovered over a period of years, similar to depreciation.

The new procedures related to preproductive costs are part of the uniform capitalization rules provided by the Tax Reform Act of 1986. These rules date back several years for much of American industry but farming was generally exempt until the new tax law was passed.

The uniform capitalization rules require that both direct and indirect costs of producing property used in a trade or business are included in capital account rather than deducted each year. Direct costs that must be capitalized include cost of both materials and labor that are used in producing property; for example feed, supplies, and medicines used in growing out dairy heifers. Indirect costs that must be considered are equipment repairs, utilities, deductible taxes (except state and local income tax), and depreciation.

Breeding animals and plants, such as orchard trees and vines, are property used in a trade or business and thus are subject to the uniform capitalization rules. Those rules apply generally to property produced for use in farming if the preproductive period is more than two years. Replacement breeding animals and young fruit trees are typical examples of such property.

What Is The "Preproductive Period?"

A common question asked relative to preproductive costs is "when does the period for calculating the costs begin and end?" The new law and regulations issued by the Internal Revenue Service are relatively clear on that point.

For plants, the preproductive period begins when the plant or seed is first planted or acquired by the taxpayer and ends when a marketable crop is first produced.

The preproductive period of animals begins at the time of acquisition, breeding or embryo implantation. If the animal has more than one yield (for example, multiple lactations for a dairy cow) the preproductive period ends when the animal has its first yield. In the case of an animal that has a single yield, the preproductive period ends at the time of disposal (sale). This means that the preproductive period for a raised replacement dairy animal covers the period from conception of a female calf to the time that calf grows into a mature animal and begins the first lactation.

A second problem related to the new preproductive period rules is how to separate the "preproductive cost" from other farm costs. Most farmers do not maintain the detailed farm accounts that will permit separation of one category of cost from total farm costs. For the majority who are in that position, the rules permit using one of the simplified inventory valuation methods for determining preproductive costs. These simplified methods are the Farm-Price method and the Unit-Livestock-Price method. Regulations issued by the Internal Revenue Service describe both these in detail and permit their use in lieu of requiring the farm manager to attempt to separate costs for his/her farm.

Farmers Permitted to Continue Deducting

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 provides an exception from the generally required capitalization of preproductive costs that permits farmers to continue deducting these costs each year, rather than capitalizing them. Once made, that election is irrevocable; that is, the decision can be changed only with permission of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

There are two penalties if the taxpayer elects to annually deduct rather than to capitalize preproductive expense. First, if the property is disposed of (as most dairy cows will eventually be) there is a recapture as ordinary income of the amount that was deducted annually rather than capitalized. This type transaction would presumably be reported on the income tax form 4797 along with other recaptures, such as those due to depreciation.

The second, and most serious,

penalty related to annually deducting preproductive expense relates to how depreciation on new property is calculated. The farmer who elects to deduct rather than capitalize preproductive cost must use the alternative depreciation system for all property placed in service during the time an election to annually deduct is in effect. The result of this will be much reduced depreciation deductions on all new depreciable property. Thus, the election to continue deducting preproductive expense, as in the past, will yield a larger expense deduction than if the costs are capitalized. But part of the benefit of the larger expense deduction will be lost to the reduced depreciation deduction.

The decision to capitalize or annually deduct preproductive expense must be made on the first tax return filed after Dec. 31, 1986 in a year when the taxpayer is engaged in a farming business. For most farmers, this means the decision must be made by the filing date for the 1987 tax return, that is, by March 1, 1988. The option chosen by the farm-taxpayer should be indicated on the schedule F that is filed as part of the return. In the case of a partnership or S corporation, the decision must be made by the partner or shareholder, not the entity.

If the taxpayer takes no action, that is, he/she does not capitalize preproductive expense and fails to indicate on the schedule F that they elect to annually deduct, then an automatic decision is made. In that case, the law will treat the taxpayer as if they had elected to annually deduct preproductive expense resulting in the recapture of ordinary income at disposal of property and reduced depreciation.

Tax Filing Implications

The tax filing implications of the new rules for preproductive costs are of some interest. The farm taxpayer who elects to capitalize these costs, and no longer deduct them each year, must reduce current year operating expense and a pro-rata share of overhead (indirect) cost by the amount capitalized. The taxpayer may use actual costs incurred in producing property (breeding animals or plants — few farmers have the detailed records for this approach) or he/she may use the simplified inventory valuation amount.

Regardless of the approach used in determining the amount to capitalize, current years costs reported on the schedule F must be reduced by the same amount.

If the election to deduct preproductive expense is exercised, the taxpayer may deduct on the schedule F the costs incurred during the preproductive period based on either actual cost or the simplified inventory valuation amounts.

In practice, most taxpayers will simply deduct all farm expense as with prior law. But, at some point the taxpayer must determine the amount of preproductive expense for each specific item of property included in the total farm expense deducted on the tax return. This is necessary because at disposal of each item of property, the expensed amount is subject to recapture as ordinary income; that is, the transaction makes it necessary to provide a number of figures on the form 4797. Those figures must be correct if an accurate tax return, as required by law, is to be filed.

Record-keeping is extremely important in the process outlined above. Time spent by the taxpayer or his/her tax accountant in making an accurate record of preproductive expense deducted, at the time of filing the tax return for the year the preproductive expense is deducted, will save countless hours in later years in attempting to reconstruct what occurred in the earlier year.

Tobacco Co. Makes Grant To PSU

LANDISVILLE — R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company presented the Pennsylvania State University with grants totaling $10,800 for use in tobacco research and education programs and for enhancement of programs in the College of Agriculture.

A grant of $5,000 was made for the discretionary use of the dean of the College of Agriculture for the enhancement of agricultural and educational programs within the College.

A grant of $5,000 was made to support various tobacco research projects at the Southeastern Field Research Laboratory at Landisville under the direction of Dr. John Yocum.

A grant of $800 was made to help support the tobacco extension education program in Lancaster County. The grant for tobacco extension will be used to support tobacco growers education and the Lancaster County tobacco show.

A.R. Mitchem, senior agricultural R&D coordinator for Reynolds Tobacco presented the check for the grants to Dr. John Yocum, senior research associate at the Southeastern Field Research Laboratory.

1987 Wye Field Day Features More Diversity

This year's Wye Field Day will feature useful information to help farmers manage their businesses better, new free services to help families improve their health, and workshops that focus on keeping farm and family finances in order.

The annual Wye Field Day — scheduled this year for Thursday, August 27 at the Wye Research and Education Center near Queenstown — is sponsored by The University of Maryland.

The Wye Field Day is a day-long open house for the Wye Research and Education Center. University of Maryland scientists, Extension specialists and teaching faculty work collectively at the Center to solve major problems facing Maryland agriculture.

"Our focus this year is on the importance of new technology as the driving force for progress in agriculture," says Russ Brinsfield, head of the Wye Research and Education Center.

"All of our research and educational efforts at the Center are geared toward applying new technology to solve common problems facing Maryland agriculture," Brinsfield adds.

"The Wye Field Day is an opportunity for us to show the public how we are meeting that challenge. And it's an opportunity for visitors to get free information they can use to manage their farm or family business more effectively," he says.

The following are highlights of the 1987 Wye Field Day:

- Registration starts at 8:30 a.m. Three concurrent tours also begin at that time. If you want to go on all three tours, be sure to arrive early. The three tours are: Field Crops and Soils, Fruits and Vegetables, and Animal Sciences.
- New this year — an Organic Farming Clinic.
- Farm and Family Finance Workshops.
- Buffet luncheon along the scenic Wye River.
- Plant, Weed, and Integrated Pest Management clinics.
- New this year — the "Health Tent," with nutrition and health-related demonstrations, free services.
- Computer analysis to improve farm management decisions.
- Crab feast.
- The latest in innovative farm equipment.

The Wye Research and Education Center is located just off US 50-East, approximately midway between the Chesapeake Bay Bridges and Easton, Md. From route 50, turn onto Carmichael Rd. near Chesapeake College and follow the signs to the Wye Field Day registration and parking.

For more information about the Wye Field Day, contact the Wye Research and Education Center at (301) 827-6016.

Introducing The bobcat 440B

ONLY $6250*

*Manufacturer's suggested list price (U.S. funds), excluding freight and attachments.

BIG FEATURES, SMALL PRICE!

Whether you are cleaning, loading, feeding or hauling, the 440B will do it faster and better. The 440B is compact, versatile and maneuverable to go through narrow doorways and under low overhangs. It works in tight areas the larger loaders can't get into, which cuts down on a lot of hand chores.

440B... Built in the Bobcat loader tradition of quality workmanship, design, manufacturing and parts, and priced small at only $6250.

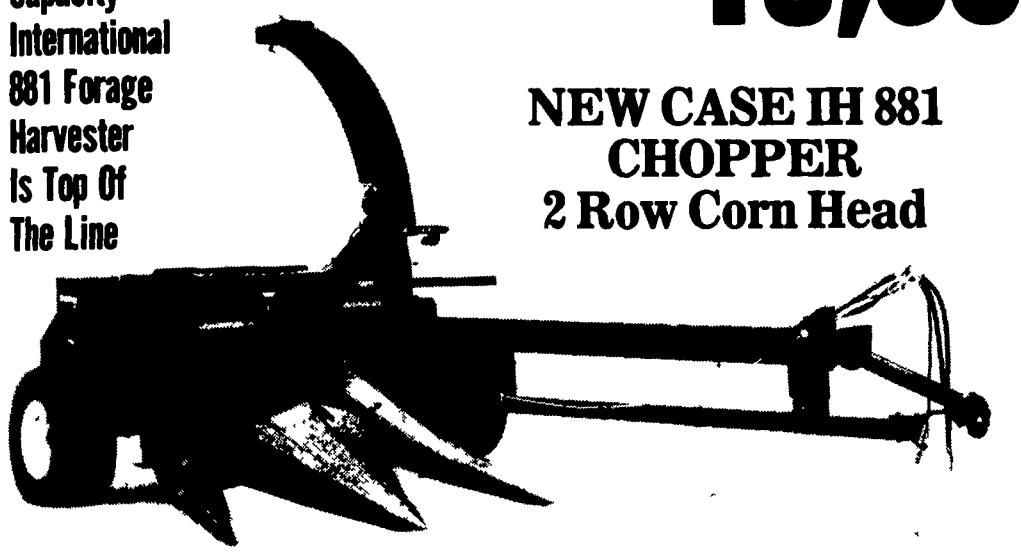
Big Capacity International 881 Forage Harvester Is Top Of The Line



NEW CASE IH 881 CHOPPER 2 Row Corn Head

Tackles Big Acreage Forage Crops, Or Takes On Custom Work With Profit-Making Performance And Capacity.

If you want the most in crop chopping capacity, step up to the International 881 forage harvester. This heavy duty machine all but guarantees to keep extra men and wagons working with no time consuming waits. And with the increased capacity of the three-row crop unit, you'll finish your chopping jobs in record time. The smooth running, high capacity, 881 harvester is rugged, ideal for large-acre private operations or high capacity custom services. And it's designed for 140 to 190 hp tractors with 1000 RPM PTO. In addition to its sturdy construction and high capacity, the 881 is a versatile machine, able to handle all your forage crops with ease. You'll like the way it can be set up to bring in any type of forage crop with maximum efficiency.

Besides the obvious advantages of multiple interchangeable crop units, the 881 basic machine has a whole host of convenient, time-saving features.

Remote electric controls give easy, fingertip control of major functions right from the tractor seat. Rotate spout, change deflection angle, start and stop feed rolls at the touch of a button. Ideal for cab equipped tractors.

Four big feed rolls feed material to the cutter-head in a positive manner. Spring-loaded upper rolls compress material and adjust automatically to varying amounts of incoming material.

High helix, 12-knife cutterhead had big tonnage capacity while allowing fast ground speeds. Produces fine chop in 3/16 or 5/16 inch lengths.

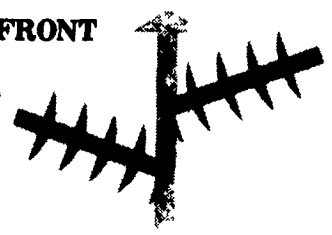
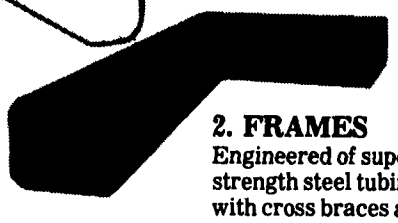
KRAUSE TILLAGE INNOVATORS INVENTED THE ROCKFLEX DISC TO BRING PLEASURE TO FARMERS

ALL KRAUSE DISCS SOLD BY HOOBERS HAVE THE 8 FEATURES SHOWN AT RIGHT

1. "SUPERSEAL" BEARINGS
Engineered to assure positive greasing directly into the cartridge. The triple lip seals keep grease in, dirt and moisture out.

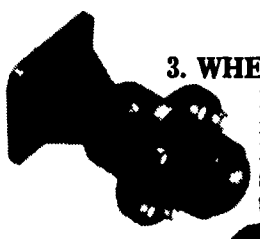
5. OVERLAPPING FRONT DISC GANGS
A unique Krause design for smoother, more uniform field finish. It eliminates the center strip of untilled ground left by conventional tandem discs.





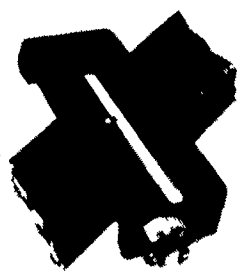
2. FRAMES
Engineered of super strength steel tubing with cross braces and gussets at major stress points.

6. "ROCKFLEX" BEARING ARMS
Krause invented the "Rock-Flex" arm in 1965. This unique C-shaped arm flexes over obstacles. It helps protect disc blades and spools from breakage. "SuperSeal" bearing is completely encased in rubber to absorb shock.



3. WHEEL HUBS
Krause Made - Precision machined and regreasable. Every hub passes rigid inspection to assure proper tolerances.

7. WING HINGES
Krause uses big 1¾" diameter bolts on heavy duty units (1½" on medium duty) with over 10" of wear surface area.



4. TIE RODS AND SPOOLS
Alloy steel tie rods are 1¾" in diameter on heavy duty units (1½" on medium duty) - (30% to 70% stronger than many other brands.) There's a nut on both ends for easy servicing.
Krause spools are ductile iron, and weigh 20-to 30-lbs. each.

8. ROCKER SHAFTS
A full 6" in diameter with big steel tube wheel arms for maximum carrying capacity. Compare ours to other makes!

1...Rugged, dependable performance.

2...Excellent penetration in tough conditions.

3...Level job every time.

4...Higher resale value when it's time to trade or sell.

5...More timely planting.

6...More time with the wife.

AREA FAIR, JULY 26TH THRU AUGUST 1ST

YOU GET MORE WITH THE NEW CASE INTERNATIONAL 1600 AXIAL FLOW

Axial-Flow has always been a clean, simple, efficient system. Now, with the 1600's increased threshing and separating area, it does an even more complete job.

The Axial-Flow system threshes grain several times (not just once) as it moves rearward, spiraling gently around and around the single rotor. Instead of a troublesome system of straw walkers, Axial-Flow uses simple separating grates and the power of centrifugal force.

Threshing and separating are accomplished in one highly efficient operation within the rotor and cage. You'll save a lot of grain that conventional combines miss. And it'll be cleaner grain because Axial-Flow takes the time to be gentle and thorough.

THERE IS AN AXIAL-FLOW FOR YOU

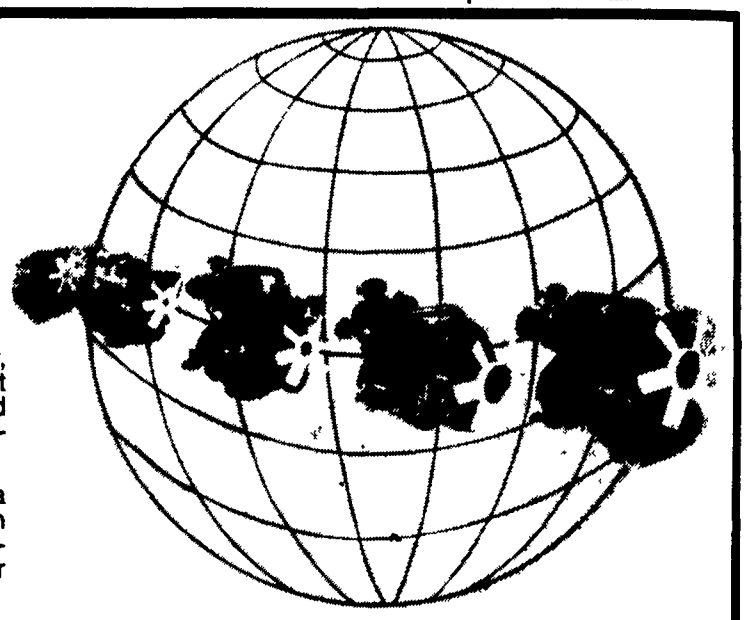
MITSUBISHI ENGINES.

There's more than just power in the name.

...there's leadership, worldwide.

Bred with durability and driven by reliability, Mitsubishi Engine is a division of one of the largest producers of heavy industrial products in the world with over 75,000 employees and net sales approximating $20 billion.

A leader since 1917, Mitsubishi engines cover a wide selection of models from 5 to 5,000 hp—with concentration from 10 to 150 hp in diesel or gasoline. But, if you don't find the model that fits your specifications, talk to us.



MITSUBISHI is an excellent quality product. No other engine line beats the value. Consider these features:

- Distributor based - support service available nationwide
- Owners report easy starting, quiet running - and exceptional fuel economy
- Bosch type in-line injection pumps, the most durable type available.
- Mechanical fuel injection timer for quiet, efficient operation.
- Removable wear parts: i.e. valve seats, valve guides, cylinder sleeves, water pump & etc.
- Forged steel crank and rods.
- Individual heads on some models.

Solid Ways To Improve Your Farm

Consider The Many Advantages Of Concrete

Congratulations To John And The Folks At "Hoover Equipment" Thanks For A Good Job!

John earned the award by selling Sollenberger Silos Products, and exceeding the yearly goal. John has sold $200,000 worth of products, and the year is just half-gone. He's now working on his second week at the beach.

There are now approximately 25 dealers in 8 states representing Sollenberger Silos, and several other dealers are close to earning the "Vacation At The Beach."

John's sales have included upright silos, bunker silos, manure pits, and feed bunk: concrete products from Sollenberger. Hoover Equipment sells Jamesway and Badger Farm and Feedlot Equipment.

MASTER MIX

SILO-BOOSTER

Why should you use Master Mix SILO-BOOSTER instead of another product? SILO-BOOSTER has been proven in 20 years of on-farm use, as well as in continuous university research. With each new discovery in silage science, we have improved the original formula. Today's SILO-BOOSTER gives the most effective silage innoculant yet developed.

Laboratory analysis of both treated and untreated silages confirms the increased production of lactic acid by the bacterial cultures in SILO-BOOSTER.

	SILO-BOOSTER TREATED	CONTROL
Lactic acid % (average of 11 measurements from day 1 to day 30)	2.35%	1.83%
pH (average of 11 measurements from day 1 to day 30)	3.98%	3.96%

While both silages showed very similar changes in total pH change; the SILO-BOOSTER treated silage contained more lactic acid. The homofermentive production of lactic acid by SILO-BOOSTER cultures reduces the potential for dry matter losses and the generation of excessive heat of fermentation.

COMPARISON OF SILO-BOOSTER TREATED AND CONTROL SILAGES

Fed To High Producing Dairy Cows
Conducted At The University of Wisconsin

	SILO-BOOSTER SILAGE	CONTROL
Milk (Lb./day)	87.3	86.2	NS
Fat %	3.84	3.88	NS
Forage DM Intake (Lb./day)	26.97	29.99	**
Conc. DM Intake (Lb./day)	27.45	26.78	NS
Total DM Intake (Lb. day)	54.31	56.77	*
DM/Lb. Milk	0.65	0.69	**

N.S. - non significant, *<5%, <1%
Statistics conducted on weekly totals.

SILO-BOOSTER treated silage was able to generate income per ton of forage feed. With milk valued at $ .125 per pound; butterfat at $ .17 per point; forage at $ .045 per pound of dry matter, and the concentrate portions at $ .08 per pound; SILO-BOOSTER silage returned $4.90 for each $1.00 invested in inoculant.

APPLICATION: 1 Lb. of SILO-BOOSTER per ton of Forage.
2 Lbs. of SILO-BOOSTER per ton of High Moisture Ear Corn.

Berks Co. Cattlemen Tour Chester Co. Beef Operations

LEESPORT — The Berks County Cattlemen's Association recently hosted a tour to three Chester County beef operations. The trip also featured an informative stop at the University of Pennsylvania's veterinary school facility, New Bolton Center.

A group of thirty cattle producers, accompanied by Berks County Extension Agent Clyde Myers who helped to organize the field trip, participated in this annual event. The first stop of the day was Devereux Soleil Farm, located near Devon. Recognized nationally as an expert in the production of beef cattle, farm manager Conrad Grove discussed the farm operation and announced its phasing-out program — the result of the Devereux Foundation's shift away from agriculture.

Grove shared with the group his philosophy on raising economical beef cattle, and noted the Pin-Pointer feeding system which allowed him to scientifically monitor cattle feed conversion for the past fifteen years. This tool allowed him to select the most efficient breeding stock which were used as the foundation of the farm's purebred Angus herd.

Dr. Colin Johnstone, of New Bolton Center, described the operations of this large animal hospital and veterinary training center to the Berks cattlemen. While the majority of work done at the Center is focused on the equine industry, Dr. Johnstone noted a trend to exam more "food animal" clients. Because of the expense of treatment at the Center, generally only those animals that are of great value as breeding stock are seen by the veterinary specialists on staff at New Bolton Center.

Dr. Jim Evans and partner Greg Krueger of Genetics Unlimited hosted the Berks Cattlemen at their nationally-recognized Angus farm. The home of numerous champions, Genetics Unlimited specializes in the production of purebred Angus cattle through the implementation of modern technology. The rolling pastures at this Chester County farm are dotted with Hosltein cows with black calves running at side — the end result of an intensive embryo transfer program.

After an informative discussion by Greg Kreuger on the farm's show cattle which were escaping the nearly 100 degree temperatures in a barn equipped with a water mister to keep them cool, Dr. Evans provided an enlightening lesson on embryo transfer techniques and the applicability of this technology to various cattle operation. He explained that the cost of this tool has decreased slightly in recent years because of the development of nonsurgical methods. He suggested that soon cattlemen will be calling for frozen embryos the same way they now call for frozen semen to artificially breed cattle.

A demonstration of warm season grasses and intensive pasture management was the focus of the final stop on the tour. With the assistance of Soil Conservation Service's Tim Smail, beef farmer Woody Zook explained how he reduced feed costs and stretched his grazing season by incorporating rotational grazing into his pasture management system. High-tensile fencing and spring-fed watering troughs allows Zook to make maximum use of this economical program. Zook said he lets the cattle do the work of harvesting their feed, which saves time and fuel. He uses portable fencing to divide small sections of pasture which are grazed by his herd of Angus cattle for two-day periods. This system allows the pasture grasses to regrow during their "resting" period and provides lush pasture during hot summer months when traditional cool-season grasses stop growing.

Berks Cattlemen's president Ken Rarick and publicity chairman, Sheila Miller, assisted in organizing the field trip, along with Chester County Extension Agent Cheryl Fairbairn.

Toil N' Trouble, Drug Issue Continues To Bubble

The antibiotic issue continues to bubble and boil. The Food and Drug Administration, after a foiled attempt in 1977, wants to ban penicillin and tetracyclines in animal feeds again. And now Pennsylvania Farmer reports a proposed bill in the Senate that would not only exclude feed-grade penicillin and tetracycline, but limit the use of oral and injectable tetracyclines as well.

Do feed-grade antibiotics affect human health? And if we eliminate some of the drugs used in swine feed, how will that affect your operation?

A lot of knowledgeable people are convinced that feeding drugs to livestock endangers our health. The scenario they fear is that animal bacteria can become resistant to antibiotics and transfer their resistance to human bacteria, which may not respond to treatment if humans get infected.

Some evidence to support this theory came in 1984 when the Center for Disease Control published a study linking a Midwest cattle feedlot and salmonella poisoning in people. The salmonella were resistant to several antibiotics and the researchers concluded this resistance was associated with feeding tetracycline to the feedlot cattle. The authors never found the conclusive evidence they wanted — a sample of hamburger with same bacterial strain as that found in the patients.

But more evidence came in March of this year when the CDC released another study.

Like the previous study, patients were infected with salmonella. And again, hamburger was the suspected source. But this time, the researchers had samples of beef contaminated with salmonella that matched the strain in the people. Worse, the salmonella was resistant to chloramphenicol — one of the primary drugs used to fight salmonella in human medicine, although not legal in livestock.

Again, the researchers linked this resistance to the use of antibiotics in the cattle.

Salmonella contamination in meat is nothing new. Although contamination seems to occur more often in poultry, the livestock industry needs to strive to keep it to a minimum. Common sense tells us that meat-borne salmonella poisoning can be easily eliminated with proper cooking. Unfortunately common sense doesn't always prevail when congress is responding to consumer pressure.

What would happen to swine performance if we lost the use of a few antibiotics?

The University of Kentucky posed a similar question 15 years ago for their two swine research herds — but they took the question a step further. In one herd they stopped using all antibiotics in 1972. In the second operation, feed-grade antibiotics continue to be used in all phases of production and injectables are used as needed. Since that time, researchers have been monitoring antibiotic resistance patterns and herd performance.

In the drug-free herd, conception rate currently averages about 83 percent. Prior to the drug withdrawals, conception rate averaged over 91 percent. Before pulling out the antibiotics, number born live was 9.8. Now it's down to 9.3. Prior to 1972, number weaned averaged 8.8. Since then it's averaged 7.5.

Compared to the herd where antibiotics are used routinely, pigs in the drug-free herd have a greater incidence of joint problems and skin lesions, a major diarrhea problem has arisen and each crop of pigs has a higher percentage of "poor-doers."

On the positive side, E. coli bacteria isolated from the feces in the drug-free herd are less resistant to tetracycline than they were 15 years ago. Currently, less than 30 percent of the fecal coliforms are tetracycline resistant compared to more than 80 percent in 1972.

There are some puzzling things about the resistance patterns in the drug-free herd For example, bacteria from pigs raised on concrete are more resistant to antibiotics than bacteria from pigs raised on pasture. Bacteria from younger pigs are more resistant than bacteria from older pigs. And trucking pigs 200 miles nearly doubles the antibiotic resistance of their fecal coliforms — resistance that takes several weeks to return to normal. And again, all these differences were found in the drug-free herd.

In the antibiotic herd, more than 90 percent of the fecal coliforms are resistant to tetracycline. But the researchers continue to use the drug and it continues to work. In the last series of trials, tetracycline increased gains by 20 percent and improved feed conversion by 9 percent for early weaned pigs.

So if we stopped antibiotics swine producers could still raise pigs, but costs of production almost certainly would go up.

But the real question congressmen have is, if we restricted the use of antibiotics would the consuming public be at less risk?

• Victor Lorian says no. He is a microbiologist from the Bronx Lebanon Hospital in New York. He and an associate looked at resistance patterns of nearly 10 million strains of bacteria isolated over a 12-year period. Lorian concluded: 1.) bacterial resistance is not increasing, if anything it is decreasing, and 2.) resistance of bacteria in people is related to our use of antibiotics in human medicine, not in the livestock industry.

• John Walton from the University of Liverpool in England says no. In England, restrictions there on both therapeutic and subtherapeutic antibiotics have not changed the resistance patterns of bacteria.

Unfortunately, the FDA has for at least 10 years felt that feeding antibiotics to livestock does, in some way, put consumers at risk. With the recent studies at their disposal, and with the uproar over poultry contamination, restrictions are almost certain to come.

What should you do in the meantime?

Follow directions and keep good records. These practices are a must for the industry and they're essential for keeping you out of trouble.

Secondly, use discretion when considering the use of antibiotics in the finishing period At that point they may not pay, and the consumer would prefer you leave them in the bag

Pork Producers Join Complaint Against EEC

DES MOINES, IOWA — The National Pork Producers Council joined with other members of the Meat Industry Trade Policy Council today in filing a formal unfair trade practice complaint (section 301) against the European Economic Community (EEC). The complaint charges that the so-called "Third Country Directive," which the EEC has been threatening to put into effect, is actually on artificial attempt to limit U.S. meat imports to EEC countries.

Under the proposed Directive, only seven slaughter plants and three cutting plants of the 400 plants inspected in the United States would be able to send meat products into EEC countries. Other plants would be expected to make costly changes in facilities and procedures. Another 59 slaughter plants are approved only until December 31 and must be reinspected by EEC reviewers. USDA currently accepts meat imports from some 250 European plants.

The requirements the EEC would impose on U.S. meat packing plants under the Directive are different than those applied to meat packing facilities processing and shipping products between EEC countries. Specific requirements of the Directive include paved parking lots, and prohibition of wooden facilities including knife handles, pallets and structural beams. The complaint states that "no scientific evidence (exists) that the detailed facility requirements of the EEC Directive have any significant health or safety advantages when compared with USDA's facility requirements."

Jim Phillips, a pork producer from Drexel, MO, who represents the National Pork Producers Council on export issues said, "Through this action we are serving notice on the EEC that we will not tolerate imposition of a regulation of this sort. It provides no health or safety benefits. If it's put in place, it would serve solely as a blatant barrier to trade in meat products."

In addition to NPPC, other members of the Meat Industry Trade Policy Council joining in filing the unfair trade practice complaint are the American Meat Institute, the Meat Export Federation, the American Farm Bureau and the National Cattleman's Association.

Shorthorn Juniors In National Show

The National Junior Shorthorn Show and Youth Conference, held July 7-10 in Terre Haute, In., proved to be one of the largest and most well attended National Junior Shorthorn events in its history, combining extreme quality of cattle, deep in every class, and a very enthusiastic group of junior Shorthorn breeders, actively involved in promoting their breed. Eighteen states were represented in the week's activities accounting for 181 heifers and 73 steers vying for the National Junior Shorthorn titles. Placing the show's some 254 entries were Tom Stewman, Maryneal, Tx., and Martin Stanley, Bleiblerville, Tx.

The heifer show brought together some of the most exciting genetics from across the entire country from Pennsylvania to Oregon and North Dakota to Texas. The coveted Grand Champion honors went to Mary Jett, Beaver, Ok., on her July '86 heifer, GS Roan Betty DP86, a very fault free, complete, super patterned female sired by GS Deerpark ET, the 1985 All-American summer yearling bull (whose dam GS Prairie Pearl D 80 was the 1981 National Junior Show Grand Champion female) and out of GS Red Betty M83. Stewman earlier selected her as the Summer Champion. She carried the impressive statistics of 900 pounds with 2.51 pound WDA and measured 52.75 inches for a 7.9 frame score. Jett also went on to capture the best pair of females with her Grand Champion, entry GS Roan Betty DP86 and GS Lady Calypson DP86, a May '86 female also sired by GS Deerpark ET.

The Reserve Grand Champion title went to the Junior Champion female, CSF Maine Lady 86, shown by Kevin Sugden, Rockford, Ill. This powerful, spring yearling was sired by CSF Big Event 78 and was out of CSF Alpha MA. CSF Maine Lady 86 was a stout made, heavy muscled, high volumed April '86 heifer with a world of performance and correctness. She weighed 1,200 pounds with a 2.61 pound WDA and was 53.75 inches at the hip for a 7.7 frame score.

In the Bred and Owned division, Ted Vinson, Fithian, Il., took his Class 12 winner, TV Miss Liberty, a March '86 female, to the winners circle. TV Miss Liberty was a very angular, large framed female sired by the 1986 All-American senior yearling bull, CC Cujo x.

The track remained fast in steer competition as Matt Carrothers, Coggan, Ia., and "Pete," a March '86 son of JBS Astronaut x, received the nod from judge Martin Stanley as Grand Champion market steer. The steer, a very thick, complete calf weighed 1,230 pounds with a 2.54 pound WDA and was 56 inches tall. Stanley then selected Waukaru Elevation 637 with Brett McMullen, Rockville, In., at the halter, to the Reserve Grand Champion market steer banner. The March '8 son of Willow Crest Elevation x weighed 1,205 pounds for a WDA of 2.52 pounds and was 54.5 inches tall.

The prospect steer show proved to be one of the more popular divisions of the whole show, and the competition continued at a high level. Colby Horn, Lookeba, Ok., with HB Piper at his side, walked away as the Grand Champion prospect steer. This August '86 son of AF Dividend's Impact was a very thick, stylish, super patterned steer that weighed 865 pounds with a 2.55 pound WDA and was 50.5 inches tall. The Reserve Champion prospect steer followed the pattern of the Champion steer very closely as Stanley chose Justin Lierle, Hydro, Ok., with CV Golden Image Spike to receive the banner. This super profiled son of M&S Golden Image weighed 650 pounds for a 2.24 pound WDA and was 48 inches at the hip.

In the appendix division the Champion Steer was GR 165, an April '86 son of Cartwright ET. The steer weighed 1,215 pounds for a WDA of 2.63 pounds and was 55 inches tall. The steer was owned by Kevin Sugden, the exhibitor of the Reserve Grand Champion female. The Reserve Champion

Reed Named To Beef Post

RICHMONDVILLE — Jerry Reed has been named Executive Director of The New York Beef Industry Council.

"Jerry has an extensive background in communications and business management," according to Henry Bono, NYBIC Chairman. "His knowledge of agriculture and reputation in the farm community, as well as his experience in communications will be a great asset in the council's beef promotion and research efforts in New York State."

In 1980, Reed founded The RFD Network, now known as The Northeast Network, where he has produced The Northeast Farm Report daily for forty-three radio stations in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. Since 1983, he has also served as Farm Director of WIBX Radio in Utica, NY. In both positions he has received numerous awards, including two from The New York State Agricultural Society for excellence in reporting about New York Agriculture in 1983 and 1984.

Reed has also worked closely with other farm organizations in New York State. He is currently on the board of directors of both The New York FFA Leadership Training Foundation and The New York State Rural Safety Council.

"Administering and implementing beef product promotion and research efforts in the state following the intent of the National Beef Promotion and Research Order," Bono continued, "requires the attention of a full time administrator." The eleven member board is confident Reed has the qualities and experience it takes to manage the day to day business of the New York Beef Industry Council."

Merle Ellis Joins Pork Campaign

DES MOINES, Ia. — The National Pork Producers Council has announced that Merle Ellis, one of the nation's best-known experts on meat cuts, will help carry pork's nutrition and versatility message to food and nutrition influentials across the country.

"Merle Ellis is a long-time booster of pork, and America's pork producers are proud to be able to use his expertise and talent to carry our message about today's leaner pork," says Robin Kline, director of consumer affairs for the NPPC.

Ellis is considered one of the country's top authorities on meat selection and cooking. He is nationally-known to the public through his own television series, "The Butcher," and "Cookin' Round The Country," as well as through a syndicated newspaper column which appears in over 200 newspapers, including the Los Angeles Times, the Chicago Tribune, and the San Francisco Chronicle.

"Merle's recognition as an authority on meat cuts and cooking will bring additional credibility to the Council's new messages on pork, while national spokesperson Peggy Fleming's fame as an athlete and homemaker will bring our messages to life," says Kline.

"Peggy will concentrate on reaching editors and consumers with a 'lifestyle' message, and Merle will bring his extensive credentials in pork selection and preparation to the same audiences," Kline continued.

The NPPC plans to use Ellis on media tours in New York City and eight other major markets. The tours are slated to being in mid-July and will continue through the remainder of the year.

Rectangular Balers By John Deere

John Deere has introduced four new rectangular balers with improved performance, reliability, ease of service and easier knotter adjustment.

The 8 Series balers are the 328 and 338, both with 80 SPM plungerhead, and the 348 and 468 with 93 SPM plungerhead (the 468 operates at 93-stroke plunger speed at 540 rpm for normal operation but can run as high as 100 SPM if conditions require). All four have a 30-inch stroke and 74 in. wide pickup.

The 328 has 104 teeth on four bars; the other three have 156 teeth on six bars.

The 348 is a high-capacity 14x18 baler; the 468 has a 16x18 bale case with adjustable side doors, multi-lubrication, hydraulic bale tension and four-position feeder forks. In addition, the 468 has replaceable liners in the bottom of the bale case and in the precompression chamber of the auger housing for extended baler life, and the bale case has been reinforced for greater strength.

On all four 8 Series balers, the knotter has a larger-diameter needle lift shaft (on both twine and wire) for increased strength. The new split-design knotter frame enables easy removal to improve servicing of high-use balers. Other new features ensure ease of adjustment. Coil spring tension on the twine holder enables a wider range of adjustment and twine disk timing has been has been made easier.

Other improvements reduce the cost of repair; the billhook cam track, for instance, is now a separate hardened part.

FOUR NEW RECTANGULAR BALERS have been introduced by John Deere. The 8 Series balers — the 328 and 338 and 80 SPM plungerhead and the 348 and 468 with 93 SPM plungerhead — feature improved performance, reliability, ease of service and easier knotter adjustment, 30-inch stroke and 74 in. wide pickup.

The addition of a notch to the trucker finger assures accurate positioning of the twine on the billhook for every knot, improves control of the twine for positive wiping action, and makes the knotter more dependable. Ball joint-style pull links assure easy and accurate adjustment.

A timing slot has been added to the bale case to make it easier to position the plungerhead accurately when timing the needles.

Features valued by hay farmers on earlier models have been retained, such as the equal-angle hitch, channel strippers with flanges to reduce tooth wear, an offset pickup to provide more usable area and keep tractor tires away from the windrow, a crank to adjust the pickup to accurate working height or for transport (hydraulic lift available), low-profile pickup to minimize lift and save leaves and short material, removable compressors that adjust to nine positions to match volume, an auger designed to reduce leaf loss and match incoming volume for high capacity, and a large feed opening that closes momentarily on compression strokes so each charge is precompressed before entering the bale chamber, resulting in uniform bale density.

Sire Power Names Intern

Jonathan Merriam, Hickman, California, has been employed by Sire Power as the Marketing Department summer intern, according to R. Rinell Vincent, Director of Marketing. The summer internship position is designed to provide practical experience in the overall communications, promotion, and marketing of the Sire Power cooperative. As Marketing Assistant, Jonathan will work with sire directory production, advertising, tours, and Sire Power Sale '87.

Jonathan Merriam

Jonathan was raised on the family dairy, Riverview Farms, a 290 head Jersey and 175 head Holstein operation. As assistant herdsman, his main responsibilities include sire selection, record keeping, and animal health and nutrition. He has served as a 4-H club president and was a member of Future Farmers of America, receiving the American Farmer Degree in 1985.

After receiving an Associate Degree in Dairy Science from Modesto Junior College, Jonathan enrolled at the California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, where he just completed his junior year as a Dairy Science major. He has held the position of copy editor for the Los Lecheros Dairy Club Yearbook, and was recently elected as the Dairy Club president for the upcoming school year. While at Cal Poly, Jonathan received the Harmon Toone Scholarship and garnered champion honors at the Poly Royal Fitting and Showing Contest.

Dairy judging has been a frequent activity for Jonathan. While on the Modesto Junior College team, he was high individual at the Western National and received the Robert Selkirk Memorial Award. He will ve vying for a spot on the 1987 Cal Poly judging team. Jonathan's many activities and leadership abilities were recognized by the American Jersey Cattle Club, as he placed as third high individual in the 1986 National Jersey Youth Achievement Contest.

National Pork Producers Back Farm Credit Bill

Farm Credit News

The Farm Credit System

DES MOINES, IOWA — After months of research and negotiations by the National Pork Producers Council and a coalition of other commodity and general farm organizations, a bill designed to restructure the financially ailing Farm Credit System was introduced today by U.S. Senator Richard Lugar (R-IN).

The measure focuses on the creation of a secondary market for farm-backed mortgages. An FDIC-type loan loss reserve fund and loan restructuring for non-performing loans, except when borrower management practices are questionable, are included in the proposal.

In recent congressional testimony, Ray Hankes, a Fairbury, Illinois producer who serves as vice-president of the National Pork Producers Council, said, "The Farm Credit System is worth saving in some form, but the surviving system should remain a co-op with more, not less, local control and farmer involvement.

Don Gingerich, a Parnell, Iowa producer who is also a member of the National Pork Producers Council Executive Committee, said, "Our primary concern is to save farmers, rather than the present structure of the system itself."

Gingerich, Hankes and Jim Phillips, a pork producer from Drexel, Missouri, have served as members of a special task force of the National Pork Producers Council that has been working for months to come up with a viable solution to the farm credit system crisis. The task force recruited the services of two of the nation's leading farm credit experts, Dr. Neil Harl, Distinguished Professor of Economics at Iowa State University, and former Iowa Congressman Cooper Evans, in drawing up the "rescue" plan. It was reviewed and refined by other major commodity group members of the Farm Credit Coalition before presentation to Senator Lugar, who introduced it today.

Deere Bale Mover, Feeder Available

MOLINE, Ill.—The John Deere model 84 bale mover and feeder can be used as a bale handler for moving round bales to and from a storage area, and also as a bale unroller for feeding livestock in a range feeding operation.

The bale mover and feeder attaches to a Category 2 or 3 three-point hitch or Category 2 or 3N Quik-Coupler. The bale arms are adjustable for bale widths from 4 foot to 5 foot 6 inch. Maximum bale weight is 2000 pounds.

Triangular bale holders, adjustable for round bales ranging from 4 to 6 feet in diameter, provide a positive gripping surface on the edge of the bale and rotate freely as the bale is unrolled. A locking pin prevents the bale from rotating during transport.

The bale mover can be mounted on tractors with a 1500 psi hydraulic outlet.

Youngsters Lead Out 541 Angus At National Show

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Young Angus breeders from 24 states and Canada led out a top quality set of 541-head of registered Angus cattle at this year's, 19th National Junior Angus Show here at the state fairgrounds.

Judge for the breeding cattle show was Pete Sweeney, Mason, Michigan. He placed a total of 455 Angus in the bred-and-owned heifers, owned heifers (heifers owned but not bred by the exhibitor), bred-and-owned bulls and cow/calf pairs divisions. Dr. Doug Parrett, Urbana, Illinois, judged the 86-head Registered Angus Steer Show.

Amy Ostrom, 18, Loganville, Georgia, was one happy exhibitor, as she showed the grand champion bred-and-owned heifer. Shiloh Edella G63 earlier was named the intermediate winner of the 122-head division. This heifer is a June 1986 daughter of Cobble Pond New Yorker.

The reserve grand champion bred-and-owned heifer banner went to the junior champ, Fox Hill Blackbirds Babe. This heifer is owned by Chris Jordan, 12, Kennett Square, and is a January 1986, Kruegers Foolish Pride daughter.

The limelight in the 306-head 'owned' heifer category shown on Ryan Cotton, 17, Howell, Michigan, and his grand champion entry, Piper Camilla P602. Also named the early junior champion, this heifer was born January 1986 and was sired by Cobble Pond New Yorker.

John Bell, 18, Georgetown, Kentucky, took home the reserve grand champion 'owned' heifer banner. Playful Lass 546 also won the late junior champion title. She is an April 1986 daughter of Brost Power Drive.

Grand champion bred-and-owned bull laurels went to a November 1986 son of Waldeck Shocker. Dameron Jolt also stood as the bull calf champion and is owned by Jeff Dameron, 15, Lexington, Illinois.

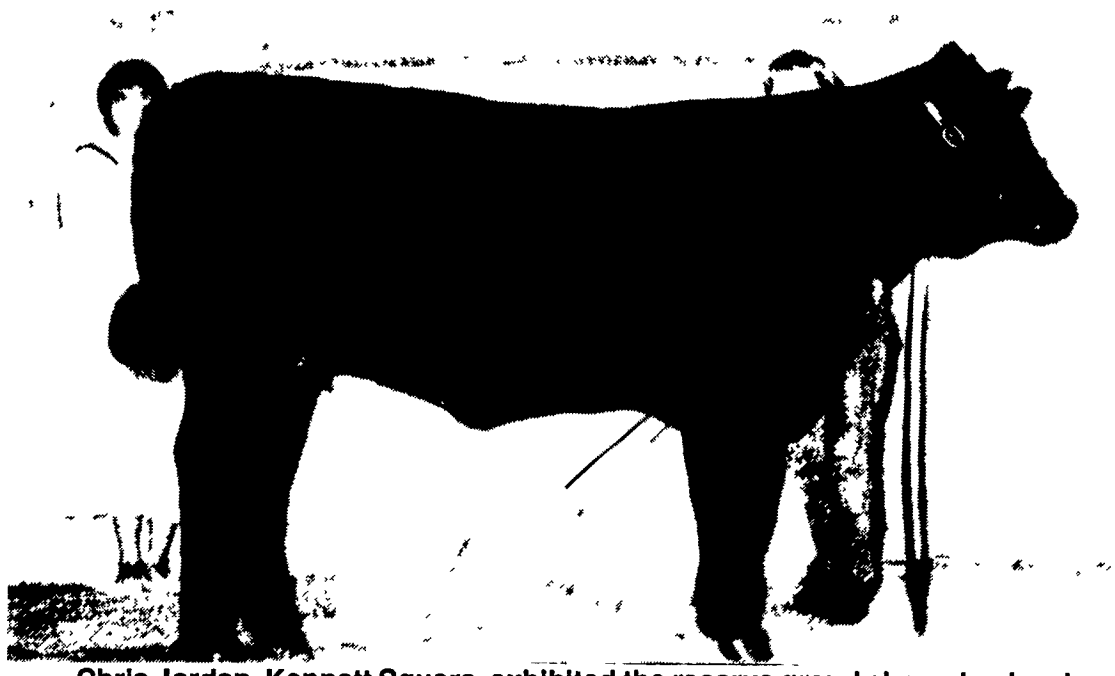
Rance Long, 16, Sherwood, Maryland, was directed to the reserve grand champion bred-and-owned bull spot with his entry, Destinations East Wind. Judge Sweeney also awarded him with the intermediate ribbon. This bull is a May 1986 son of J K Pine Tar.

Ryan Cotton took hom another championship banner. He exhibited the grand champion cow/calf pair. The cow, Premier Venus was named the grand champion bred-and-owned heifer at the 1985 National Junior Angus Show. She has January bull calf at her side, sired by Harrison.

Jay Cat Diamond Ballou and her February, Genetics Madison Avenue bull calf, shown by Rachel Smith, 14, Hiawatha, Kansas, won the reserve grand champion cow/calf banner.

In the Registered Angus Steer Show, judge Parrett slapped Stewarts Overdrive 683B as his grand champion. Shown by Jackie Riecke, 14, Avilla, Indiana, this steer is an April 1986 son of Ken Caryl Overdrive 304H. He weighed 1,238 pounds and had a weight per day of age of 2.69 pounds.

Teri Walsh, 18, Mineral Point, Wisconsin, led her 1,278 pound entry to the reserve grand champion steer spot. S V F General George 6478 was born March 1986 and is a son of S V F General George. He had a weight per day of age of 2.71 pounds.



Chris Jordan, Kennett Square, exhibited the reserve grand champion bred-and-owned heifer at the 19th National Junior Angus Show held July 7-11 at the state fairgrounds in Indianapolis, Indiana. Fox Hill Blackbirds Babe also won the junior champion ribbon at the 541-head show. Pete Sweeney, Mason, Michigan, served as judge.

In the carcass show, Doug Spooner, 17, Evansville, Wisconsin, exhibited the grand champion. His July 1986, M T F Big Guy 844 son weighed 1,095 pounds; had a weight per day of age of 2.99 pounds; a hot carcass weight of 711 pounds; graded low choice; and had a 2.6 yield grade.

The reserve grand champion carcass was entered by Andrew Hooten, Gays, Illinois. His March 1986 son of Ken Caryl Overdrive 304H son weighed 1,370 pounds; had a weight per day of age of 2.93 pounds; a hot carcass weight of 882 pounds; graded low choice; and had a 3.1 yield grade.

For the second year in a row, Amy Ostrom earned the Premier Breeder Award. It is presented to the breeder of the three highest

Lewis Family At Shindig

The Lewis Family will make their 80th appearance at the 20th anniversary of the Shindig In The Barn. This bluegrass concert will be held Saturday, August 1, at Martin's Sale Barn east of Intercourse. Doors open at 6 p.m. Concert starts at 8 p.m.

The story of The Lewis Family dates from about 1950, when Roy ("Pop") Lewis, Sr. and "some of my children" began to perform at "singings" in rural churches and schoolhouses in the northeast Georgia and western South Carolina area surrounding their Lincolnton, Georgia home. In April, 1954, the group landed a one hour Sunday morning live telecast on Augusta's powerful WJBF, Channel Six. Having never missed a broadcast in the same time slot and in its fourth decade, the show is quite likely the longest-running continuous TV show in existence anywhere. Now videotaped, it is enjoyed by thousands of fans every week.

Each of the currently performing members of the immediate family of Pop Lewis was in the original group, including daughters Miggie, Polly and Janis and sons, Wallace and Roy Lewis, Jr., the inimitable "Little Roy." Wallace's son Travis joined the cast in 1974, followed in 1979 by then six-year-old Lewis Phillips, son of Janis Lewis Phillips. The diversity of ages within The Lewis Family is fitting, for the unit's magic appeal to fans sweeps a wide swath, extending from the youngest in an audience to the eldest.

Wolmanized®
Pressure-Treated Lumber

Wolmanized pressure-treated wood and Outdoor wood have built-in chemical protection that provides resistance to decay and termites. This material has been pressure-impregnated with Koppers Wolman® CCA wood preservative which meets or exceeds federal, state and industry specifications for this type of wood preservative. The chemicals are fixed in the wood and, although toxic to termites and fungi, they are not present in sufficient quantity to be toxic to animals.

Health: Herd certified & Accredited, Calfhood Vaccinated, tested for interstate shipment and pregnancy checked.

Note: Herd is 100% homebred. The "Harlene" prefix is used by Harold and his wife, and "Fabholm" was used by their late son Sterling. It was the sudden and premature death of Sterling that promoted the sale of this exceptional, high producing herd. Don't miss this "seed-stock" opportunity.
